Inquest In Chicago Reveals Four Men Died By Poisoning

MRS. SUMMERS HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Charge Insurance Collected By Woman In Death Of Four Men

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 26. — A coroner's inquest today revealed that chronic arsenic poisoning caused the deaths of four out of five men who passed away in the home of Mrs. Margaret Summers.

Mrs. Summers collected insurance on the life of each man, records show. The inquest was held specifically into the death of Thomas Meyers, the woman's 17-year-old nephew.

Victims of Poison.

The victims of the insidious poison and the amounts of insurance collected by Mrs. Summers, who is in police custody, are:

Thomas Summers, 37, her husband, $4,000; Thomas Meyers, the nephew, $2,600; Thomas Lanagan, 60, a boarder, $5,000, and William Rieman, 65, a boarder, $400.

Immediately after testimony had been introduced showing that the men died of arsenic poisoning and that Mrs. Summers collected insurance on all of them, she took the stand and denied responsibility or knowledge of how they came by their deaths.

Held For Grand Jury.

In spite of the statement of the 47-year-old woman, the jury recommended that she be held to the grand jury on charges of murder in all four cases.

Hearing the verdict, Mrs. Summers, sobbing hysterically, was led from the room. She had collapsed before the inquest was resumed today and cried during most of the proceedings.

Arsenic was found in the vital organs of the poison victims by Dr. Clarence W. Muehlberger, coroner's

PA NEWC OBSERVES

No new detours have been established in this section of the state by the State Highway Department, a survey of the latest Detour Bulletin shows. There is one small detour in the borough of Cambridge Springs, which is a half-mile in length, but the detour is over good roads inside the borough.

A heavy fog enveloped the district this morning, making traveling hazardous on the highways.

The highway intersections at Harlansburg are going to be real beauty spots in the near future. They are beingng landscaped and planted with flowers and grass.

And by the way, who got the reward for capturing the slayers of Corporal Brady Paul?

Auto traffic through this area of Western Pennsylvania for the Memorial day holiday period will find few detours. Main highways are practically without detours of any consequence.

Pa Newc notes that the interurban buses carrying the name Ellwood City on them, have a modified spelling. The town name is spelled "Elwood" on the bus signs in the front of the cars.

School Vacation Starts June 9th

Over 11,000 To Cast Aside Books For Three Months; Teachers May Study

Two more weeks and silence will again become known to the hundreds of classrooms in the schools of the city. The present school semester ends June 9 for a vacation of students and teachers until the first week in September.

Classes are nearing the close of a semester that was replete with academic activities in which no doubt scores of students accomplished outstanding work.

When books and papers and pencils are cast aside on Tuesday, 9th by the students, many of their instructors will start on a period of genuine study. Dr. Green said today that a large percentage of city instructors will entrain for different institutions of higher learning.

The schools with their population of over 11,000 students await a thorough summer overhauling. Already S. G. Ligo, superintendent of buildings, grounds an equipment of the New Castle schools is preparing his corps of workers to make repairs on the different buildings.

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., May 26.—It used to be quite a friendly and social distinction for a cabinet member to be asked to "week end" on the Rapidan, but it's nothing to brag about owadays.

Invitations read:

"You are requested to attend a 'wake' in honor of Mr. Mellon's late lamented "overdraft.' Don't bring fishing tackle. Bring your department's salary list. Yours, Sir, Boss."

Next scene on the Rapidan:

"Mr. Postmaster General, how much does it cost to run your racket'?"

"838 million, Mr. President."

Mr. Hoover: "Yeah?'

"That's with strict economy any getting all the congressmen's free mail to the voters on time."

Mr. Hoover: "Yeah. Well you lop off the 38 million. We got to get Andy out of the red by November, '32."

Capital Stock Tax Bill Passes House—Senate Confirms Samuel Walker

RURAL ROAD BILL GIVEN APPROVAL

Senate Ready To Battle On Hire And Fire Provision Of Commission Bill

HARRISBURG, May 26.—Its calendars considerably lightened but still jammed with important pending matters, the legislature today took the bit in its teeth to settle down for the last long pull to sine die adjournment.

Both houses, when they met today, had rid themselves of several troublous measures and matters long before them.

Pass Capital Stock Tax Bill

At the opening session of the week, the house with four special orders of business and nearly 200 bills on third readihg and final passage in a six-hour session rid itself of a mass of proposed legislation.

It passed the Sterling Capital Stock Tax bill, defeated last week, 131 to 52. The bill, urged for enactment by the Governor legalizes the proportional method of levying capital stock taxes and will save to the state some ten million dollars revenue biennially. And the house, after a bitter fight, approved the amended Howell bill giving the Governor power to dismiss members of the Public Service Commission at will by a vote of 128 to 72. Victory on both measures indicated

Howard Bridgetts, Brooklyn Admits Firing At Doctor

SUSPECT WOUNDED, TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 26.— "I took three shots at the doctor and then shot myself."

That was all Howard Bridgetts, wealthy young commission merchant, would reveal today after he surrendered to police, who sought him in connection with the killing of his cousin, Dr. Joseph T. Loughlin, prominent Brooklyn physician.

Whether, as police believed, Bridgetts and the doctor engaged in a pistol duel, the merchant refused to say. He was wounded in the right side and was at once taken to a hospital. His condition was not believed serious.

Loughlin's body was found Sunday in a park after Bridgetts and the doctor had quarreled and had driven away from the Loughlin home "to have it out."

Police believed that either engaged in a pistol duel or that Loughlin beat his cousin in a fist fight and was then shot by Bridgetts.

Authorities said the men had quarreled because Bridgetts had "carried tales" to Mrs. Loughlin concerning the doctor's acquaintance with other women.

New Yorkers To See Army Fliers Vanquish Enemy

Albany, West Point And New York City Will Watch Air 'Stunts' Today

FORMATIONS ARE IN BETTER TRIM

Greatest Display Of Present Mythical Warfare Is Expected Today

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 26.—The Hudson River Valley in general, and West Point, Albany, and New York City in particular, today were on the route of what promised to be the most impressive show the army air corps 672 plane formation has staged.

Veterans now of more than 5,000 miles of parade flying, over Dayton, Chicago, New York and New England, the 1400 officers and men comprising the formation personnel were in top form. The big aerial outfit was runnig like a clock. A noticeable improvement in parade work was apparent. Smooth air trails southward promised by the thus far perverse weather man gave reasons for belief today's show would be the best of all.

Over West Point

The West Point parade was to be the feature of the day. There America's fledgling fighters will watch the nation's air veterans wheel in finished maneuvers on parade and demonstrate the most approved methods of disposing of enemy air fighters.

The Albany show was on the schedule for 12:20 p. m., an hour before the feature parade over West Point at 1:15.

And at 1:45 New York City, whose thousands watched the formation fight a stiff wind Saturday to parade as best it could above the new Floyd Bennett Air Field, will get another view of the air cavalcade flying in clearer skies if the weather man comes up to snuff, and whipped into better form by 300 miles of ormation work in New England.

Governor Signs Bill Providing That State Share Cost Of Bridge

(From News Bureau)
(State Capital)

HARRISBURG, May 26— Lawrence county will save approximately $60,000 through the passage of the Weingartner bill, providing that where bridges cross streams between a third class city and a boro township, the state pays half the cost of construction and maintenance.

The bill, Senate bill 814, has been signed by Governor Pinchot and means that instead of the county building the bridge over the Mahoning river near the seventh ward, New Castle, the state will pay half.

The cost has been estimated at $125,000 for this bridge.

A number of municipalities in the state are affected by the provisions of the bill, but inasmuch as the bridge over the Mahoning river at New Castle must be built within the immediate future, it is a direct saving of over $60,000 to Lawrence county.

Rich New York Man Hunted In Gordon Slaying

Arrest Of "Higher Up" Expected As Police Uncover New Clues

SEVERAL HELD AS MATERIAL WITNESSES

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 26.—Arrest of a "higher up" was awaited today in the Vivian Gordon murder mystery.

While police refused to confirm the reports, it was strongly hinted that they hoped to arrest a wealthy man whom Miss Gordon was accused of blackmailing. Police, it was said, hoped to be able to prove that the man of wealth, angered at his "shakedown," had hired Samuel Greenburg and Harry Stein to kill her.

Greenberg and Stein, accused of choking the woman to death on February 25 and throwing her body into a park, were indicted yesterday for the crime, after Harry Schlitten, taxicab driver, related how she was strangled to death in an automobile he was driving.

Schlitten and his friend, Isidor Lewis, alias English, said to have aided in obtaining the death car, were held in a hotel under a heavy police guard. Greenberg was to plead in court today.

Mrs. Madeline Tully, a middle-aged keeper of a rooming house where Stein lived, was held in $25,000 bail as a material witness. She was said to have been given by Stein the lining to Miss Gordon's fur coat, which was snatched from her body when she was put to death.

Mrs. Tully denied she knew anything about the murder.

Perry Highway Bridge Is Open

Detour Over River Near Harlansburg Has Been Removed

VIADUCT ALSO NEAR COMPLETION

Autoists report that the new bridge over the Slippery Rock at McCracken's, near Harlansburg on the Perry highway, has been thrown open for traffic. The new bridge is a fine concrete and steel structure and replaces an old span that crossed the stream nearby.

The viaduct at Grant City on the Perry highway is still under construction, but it is indicated it will soon be ready for traffic, as the approaches are being constructed. When this is thrown open for traffic, there will be no detours on the Perry highway between the Butler road and the Harlansburg road.

The Perry highway is attracting an immense amount of traffic, and the completion of these bridges, eliminating detours, will be much appreciated by motorists.

State highway workmen are completing some parking areas in the intersections of the highways at Harlansburg, flowers being planted and the ground being leveled off and planted in grass.

Permanent signs have also been erected at Harlansburg by the state highway department directing the route to the Jordan state game farm which is nearby.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 26.—Joe Caccia, 31, crack driver from Bryn Mawr, Penn., and his machanic, Clarence Grove, 23, of Haverford, Penn. were killed instantly when their Jones-Maley Special race car plunged over a retaining wall at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway race track today.

Joe Caccia

The racing car, apparently out of control at a speed of nearly 100 miles an hour, plunged over the wall at the south turn, struck a tree and then caught on fire.

The automobile then turned over imprisoning the two men.

Their bodies were badly burned.

Caccia was a veteran race driver, who was said to have had a good chance at one of the high places in the famous 500-mile race which will be held here on Saturday. Caccia is survived by his mother, Mrs. Sophia Caccia.

Grove is survived by his mother, Mrs. Laura Grove.

The two men apparently were practicing this morning in preparation for their qualification trial this afternoon.

What caused the speeding car to get out of control may never be known.

Postponement For Disarmament Meet Appears Probable

United States May Have To Agree To Postpone Scheduled Conference

FRANCE MAY ASK FOR MORE TIME

By PIERCE MILLER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Possibility that the United States might have to agree to a postponement of the forthcoming general disarmament conference scheduled for Geneva February 2, next, was admitted at the state department today.

Postponement beyond the following June, is likely to be unacceptable to President Hoover or Secretary of State Stimson, it was indicated. What either can do to prevent it's being delayed indefinitely, officials appeared not to know.

France Seeks Delay

If a demand for further delay is made, it was said, France will be the European power to make it, and because of the Russian situation more than any other one thing.

France, according to the state department view, is unlikely to be willing to discuss general disarmament with Russian pursuing its aloof course. Other obstacles are believed to be the proposed Austro-German custom union and the probability that France and Italy will not be able to reach an agreement on naval disarmament.

State department observers declare France would be unlikely to agree even to discuss disarmament in a serious way, at a general disarmament conference, with the Mediterranean situation unsettled, or without knowing the decision of the world court on the proposed central European customs union.

It was a beautiful spring day, and playing on the sidewalk with a group of her friends was little Trudy Jane. Trudy was the leader of a little group. Suddenly she decided to have a game of tag, and the children started in all directions. Little Trudy ran out into the street and, as it happened, into the path of an approaching street car. The car hit Trudy and injured her severely. Trudy was taken to the hospital and lingered there a long time. At last she was released, and immediately thereafter her parents sued the traction company for damages.

At the trial it came out that the motorman in that particular car was driving his car at a high rate of speed, even though he was going through a thickly populated section. Furthermore, that his gong was out of order.

ASSEMBLY ACTS ON MANY BILLS MONDAY NIGHT

Battle In Senate

The Howell bill went through despite an attempted one-man filibuster by Rep. Spangler, York, and efforts of anti-administration members to block it by parliamentary maneuvering.

The bill today is before the senate where the battle on giving the Governor "firing" power over commissioners will reopen in full blast.

The senate, less heavily loaded with "dynamite" in the week's first session, rid itself of one bothersome matter by confirming the nomination of Samuel Walker, Butler, as a member of the Public Service Commission for another ten year term by a vote of 45 to 2. Only Senators Howell, Lackawanna, and Pethick, Wayne, voted against confirmation and the vote for Walker was a surprise even to his backers.

Without a dissenting vote, the senate approved the administration rural road program bill and approved finally the Wheeler bill allocating thirty million dollars for road construction during the biennium. The measure sets aside $18,000,000 for completion of the present highway system: $6,500,000 for township road construction; $1,500,000 for Philadelphia routes; $2,000,000 for Pittsburgh, Scranton and third class city streets; and $2,500,000 for township reward.

Approve Firearms Bill

The senate approved also the Heffran bill appropriating $300,000 for city streets and revived and passed the Witkin firearms bill, 34 to 15. Attempts in the senate were made to restore the Musmanno coal and iron police bill to its original form but failed and the senate today votes on the bill as amended in the upper house.

Meantime, the house took up the proposed state election code, argued it and defeated the measure 104 to 89, and by a move for reconsideration, its opponents doomed it for the present session. Compiled by some organizations for election reform, the proposed code would have changed election routine considerably and was subjected to strong opposition since its introduction.

The lower chamber also knocked the Heffran legislative reapportionment bill on the head and killed that subject for the rest of the session. The vote was 78 to 112.

Before it adjourned, the house passed finally a dozen senate bills and got its own calendar in shape for senate action.

Bills passed finally included the Talbot measure fixing 2,000 pounds as a standard anthracite ton and the Way bill to protect miners from wage frauds and standard measurements for coal mined; the Haines bill for licensing livestock dealers; the Mason bill for jury trial in contempt of court cases arising out of labor injunction disputes and its companion bill prescribing conditions under which labor injunctions may be issued; and the Richards bill reducing voting machine precincts to 500 voters.

After concurring in senate amendments to the administration rural road bill, the house adjourned at 3:20 a. m. this morning.

chemist, who also examined the body of Louis Meyers, brother of Mrs. Summers and father of Thomas Meyers. The elderly Meyers also died in Mrs. Summers' home.

Probe Instigated.

Among those who attended the inquest were several relatives of Mrs. Summers, including those whose charges brought about the investigation.

The probe was instigated after the death of Thomas Meyers on May 14. The other men died over a period of more than a year.

One witness at the inquest, Mrs. Mathilda Kuhn, testified that Mrs Summers, after the death of her husband, said, "I put him away so nobody else will get him. I poisoned him."

Police who investigated the case previously revealed that there was a strong friendship between Mrs. Summers' husband and Miss Anna Kuhn, 22, daughter of Mrs. Kuhn.

Amazing Revelation.

An amazing revelation was that by Dr. Muehlberger when he testified he found no vital organs in the body of Rieman, but that the portion of the body where the vital organs should have been was stuffed with sawdust. Examination of other tissues, however, revealed the presence of arsenic.

Dr. Muehlberger explained that chronic arsenic poisoning indicated that the arsenic had been administered or taken in small doses over a period of time.

Before the investigation, relatives complained to authorities that they had not been permitted to see the younger Meyers during his illness of more than a year. He was supposed to be suffering from some strange malady that was variously diagnosed and which failed to respond to treatment.

Born in England, March 28, 1858, Mr. Bullock had been a resident of Sharon for the past 51 years. He was very well known and his death has caused deep regret to a wide circle of friends. He was a member of Sharon lodge 347, I. O. O. F., and had been a deacon of the First Baptist church for the past 40 years.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Catherine Bullock; two daughters, Mrs. P. M. Snedden of Kingston, Pa., and Mrs. W. T. Barnes of Sharon and two brothers, John G. of Farrell and Fred of Sidney, Australia.

Funeral services will be held at the late home, Wednesday, at 2 p. m., with Rev. Ralph Madden in charge. Burial will be in Oakwood cemetery.

Mrs. Bullock will be remembered as Catherine Hoover of this city, by the older residents of New Castle.

Mrs. Belle Whan Vance

Mrs. Belle Whan Vance, aged 93 daughter of John and Mary Stinson Whan and widow of Alex Vance, died at the Memorial Home in Conneautville, Monday, May 25, after a long illness due to her advanced age.

Mrs. Vance was a resident of Lawrence county the greater part of her life and has many friends and relatives in the vicinity of Wampum.

The surviving relatives are children of her brother, Thomas Whan: Mrs. John Thompson, of North Beaver township: William and Robert Wham of Youngstown, O., also the children of her sisters, Mrs. Mary J. Rhodes and Mrs. Elizabeth Overlander.

Funeral services will be held on Wednesday May 27, at 12:30 E. S. T. with a brief service in Oak Park cemetery, where interment will be be made.

Sadie Ellen Christy

Sadie Ellen Christy, aged 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Christy, of Brent Mine Volant 4 died Sunday at 7:30 p. m. in the New Castle hospital, following an illness of two years.

She was born in Argentine, Butler county, July 25, 1911 and had lived in Brent the past two years. She was a member of the Methodist church of Zazareth.

She is survived by her parents: two brothers, William and Albert Christy and three sister, Margaret, Blanche and Gladys Christy all at home.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p. m. E. S. T. from the family home and interment will be made in the Annisville cemetery, Butler county.

Mrs. Fowler's Funeral

Funeral services of the late Mrs. Ethel May Fowler of 783 Arlington avenue, were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Book-Leyde Mortuary, Neshannock avenue, with many sorrowing friends and relatives in attendance.

The services were in charge of Elder William McCune of the Reorganized Church of the Latter Day Saints, who was assisted by Rev. Samuel Stimer of the Arlington Avenue Free Methodist Church.

A quartet of the Arlington Avenue Free Methodist church consisting of Mrs. John Morris, D. B. Thomas, and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. George rendered two beautitul and appropriate selections.

The pallbearers were Wm. Black, Wm. Ricer, Arch Moffatt, Arnold Evans, John Biddle and Leonard LeComte. Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery.

Time of Funeral

Funeral services of Vindenve Iatalli, known to his friends as Jim Yobeli, will be held Wednesday, May 27, 1931 at 11 a. m. D. S. T. in the Italian Catholic church of the Purification of the Blessed Virgin Mary, Ellwood City. Interment will be made in St. Agatha's Cemetery, Ellwood City.

Mr. Iatalli, who was employed at the mine quarry of the Crescent Portland Cement Co. at Wampum as a rope man on the air shovel used in the mine, was crushed to death, when the cable used to hoist the dipper of the shovel snapped and the dipper swung around and hit him.

He was 38 years of age and made his home with John Valentine of Chewton. He was a private in the Coast Artillery of the United States during the World War. He leaves a wife and three children in Italy.

Mrs. Charlotte Leslie Reed

Mrs. Charlotte Leslie Reed, for many years a resident of Galbreath avenue, this city, died about noon Monday at her home, 17006 Endora road, Cleveland, O., following an illness.

Mrs. Reed was well and favorably known here, where she had many friends. Her husband preceeded her in death a number of years ago.

She leaves the following children, Mrs. W. H. Grafton, Mrs. Charlotte Rupay, Harry, Carl, Wilson, Arnold and Paul, also a brother Frank of Cleveland and a brother Homer Leslie of Huron avenue, this city.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday. Interment will be made in the family plot in Stoneboro cemetery.

Mrs. Wagner's Funeral.

Funeral services of the late Mrs. Margaret Wagner, wife of Stewart Wagner, of 1305 South Jefferson street, were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Pentecostal Church, on Pearson street, formerly the Epworth M. E. Church, with Rev. Milton J. Scripture, pastor of the Hoover Heights Tabernacle and Rev. W. H. Armstrong, pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist church in charge.

The church was filled with sorrowing friends and relatives and the floral offerings were many and beautiful.

The pallbearers were Robert Walker, Harry Mack, John Lewis, Walter Cunningham, William Asher and Daniel Pitzer.

Interment was made in Graceland Cemetery.

CONTAGIOUS CASES.

Dr. C. A. Dawson Goes To Roanoke

To Become Head Of English Department At Virginia School

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., May 26.—Dr. C. A. Dawson, head of the department of English at Westminster college for the last six years, has accepted the position of head of the department of English at Roanoke college at Salem, Virginia. Dr. Dawson will assume his new duties in September.

Dr. Dawson came to Westminster in the fall of 1925, and immediately set about to reorganize the English department. Under his direction the department has increased in efficiency. In addition to his teaching duties at Westminster, Dr. Dawson has been coach of varsity debates, an extension lecturer in art and English for teachers' classes, editor of the college catalogs and bulletins, and director of the college lecture course.

Dr. Dawson, in addition to his work there at Roanoke, will also be a lecturer in the extension department of the University of Virginia.

Paint Will Make A City Beautiful

Movement Under Way Now Is Money In The Pockets Of New Castle Home Owners

Considerable work in the line of house painting is under way in the city at present. More houses are being painted than at any similar period for several years. Some jobs are being done by owners, who are out of work or only employed part time, while others are being done by regular contractors. Materials are cheaper this year and it is considered a good time to paint.

Owners have found that it does not pay to let their properties run down, even if they are not rented. The chances of renting a house newly painted and in good repair are greatly enhanced by the improvements. Frame house deteriorate very rapidly when in need of paint.

New Castle would present an entirely different appearance if all the dingy looking houses were brightened by paint, and it would be money in the pockets of owners.

field, and Hartford between 10 and 11 a. m. with Troy, N. Y., set as the rendezvous point for the parade. Nearly 500 airplanes were staked to the ground here, while Boston airports housed 46 observation planes and the Hartford Pratt Whitney field the remainder, made up principally of attack planes.

Wing Way Southward

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 26.—Pulling into the prettiest sky two weeks of maneuvers have seen, the Army Air Corps 672-plane formation moved from New England back into the New York area today.

The take-off was begun shortly after 11 a. m., and soon the entire formation was winging its way southward.

Parade and demonstration work was on the slate for three points, Albany, West Point, and the new Floyd Bennett field in New York, with the show for the cadets the feature of the day.

$1,000,000 FOR SCHOOL
(International News Service)

MERIDEN, Conn., May 26.— The Connecticut state school for boys, a great storm center two years ago when Governor Trumbull investigated charges against the management and put in a new staff, is to be completely rebuilt this summer at a cost of nearly $1,000,000. State officials, deciding the work of the school was handicapped by ancient structures at the institution, had little work in persuading the appropriation of funds for the plant.

ASSOCIATION HEARS DR. ANNA JACK

A most inspiring and instructive meeting of the Sabbath School association of the Highland United Presbyterian church was held Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Blimm, Norwood avenue, when most of the officers and teachers of the church school were present.

Dr. C. J. Williamson presided at the business session and matters of a routine nature were transacted and plans made for the welfare of the school during the summer months.

At the conclusion of business the guest speaker of the evening, Dr. Anna Jack, was introduced by Mrs. H. S. Kison, and she gave a most interesting, enlightening and inspiring message of the schools thru the southland, which are owned or supported by the United Presbyterian church. Dr. Jack has recently returned from a trip through these mission stations for the colored and the mountaineers and her message was direct from the base of the work. She appealed to the United Presbyterians to aid these schools that are doing so much good for the spiritual life of the students, and which have been badly hit by the depression.

The Book-Leyde quartet, Willard McCown, Ted Stritmater, David Jones and Trevor West, accompanied by Danny Heitzer, pleased the assemblage greatly with a varied selection of vocal numbers.

To close the evening, the committee, Mrs. J. G. Blim, Mrs. F. L. Burton and Mrs. W. D. Jones, assisted by their husbands, served dainty refreshments.

The committee appointed for the June meeting included Mrs. H. L. Gormley, J. P. Merrilees and Roy Mercer.

RECENT BRIDES ARE GUESTS OF HONOR

A delightful social event of Monday evening occurred at the home of Miss Emma Patton of Borough Line street when she entertained associates of her I. B. H. Sunday school class of the First Christian church, at their regular session, and also honored two of their members, Mrs. Charles Phillip Walther, and Mrs. Clifford Bradford, brides of recent date.

Following the usual routine of business, the hours were spent informally.

During the usual routine of business, plans were completed for a picnic to be held at Cascade park in the near future. A social time spent informally occupied the remainder of the evening.

Preceding the serving of a very tasty lunch by the hostess, assisted by her sister, Agnes, the guests of honor were presented with many lovely gifts.

At St. Joseph's Hall.

Play will begin at 9:15 o'clock on Friday, May 29 at the bridge, 500, euchre and bingo party held at the St. Joseph's hall on South Jefferson street, at their regular social event. Prizes will be awarded and a lunch will be served by members of the L. C. D. A. who are in charge.

Section Meeting

Members of Section F of the Y. L. B. class of the Third United Presbyterian church will meet Thursday, June 4, at the home of Mrs. J. C. Blevins, 913 Warren avenue, instead of Thursday of this week, as previously planned.

SHOWER HONORS RECENT BRIDE

Mrs. John Kenehan, a bride of recent date, nee Miss Angie Colnot, was most pleasingly surprised Monday evening at the home of Mrs. C. N. Bruce, East Washington street, when she entertained a group of young people at a miscellaneous shower.

Chat and music were diversions of the leisure hours, and when the evening was at its heighth, the honored guest was presented with many beautiful and serviceable gifts.

At an appropriate hour, a delicious lunch was served in the dining room at a table beautifully decorated in tones of pink and white. A large basket of wild honeysuckle formed the atractive centerpiece and tall pink slender tapers in crystal holders completed the setting. The hostess was assisted by her sister Miss Rosalie Ward in serving.

As a special guest of the occasion, the girls had Mrs. J. O. Stritmater of Coraopolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenehan left today for their newly furnished home at Westview.

MRS. W. E. FERVER ENTERTAINS CIRCLE

The beautiful home of Mrs. W. E. Ferver located on the New Wilmington road, was an ideal setting for the last meeting of The Reading Circle members, which took place Monday afternoon. A large number were present, including many visitors, who arrived with members of this organization, in observance of guest day.

A program especially arranged which included a play under the direction of Mrs. R. J. Robison, entitled "Matinata" or "Song of the Dawn" was put on in a most excellent manner. Those taking part were Mrs. Wayne Stitzinger, Miss Edith Moore and Mrs. Robison.

Following this feature, the guests were ushered into the spacious dining room where they were served tea and dainty cakes. The large table was beautifully appointed in a color scheme of orchid and gild, which was effectively carried out in the favors, cakes, tapers and flowers. Mrs. J. F. Rentz poured, and a committee comprising Mrs. Thomas Elliott, Mrs. Burr M. Rogers and Mrs. Clyde Gilfillan served.

This gathering brought the club season to a close, and all adjourned until October 5 when their honorary president, Mrs. T. W. Phillips will entertain at a luncheon.

JUNIOR COUNCIL TO HOLD BRIDGE SOON

A committee of arrangements from the New Castle Junior Council of Jewish Women is making preparations for a bridge party which will be held at the home of Miss Florence Brownstein of Ellwood City on Thursday.

Merry Twenty

Merry Twenty club members enjoyed a picnic Sunday at Cascade Park. The girls were taken to the park by Louis Shear and spent the evening there on the Park amusements, with games, and later a delicious picnic lunch was enjoyed.

The outing was well attended and the honor guest of the occasion was Rose Greenberg. At seven o'clock, the girls left for their homes.

On May 31 at 3 o'clock the Merry Twenty will meet at the Tifereth Israel.

READING CIRCLE '91 CLOSES CLUB SEASON

Another year of social activities was brought to a successful close by the Reading Circle of '91 at the home of Mrs. George Stone on the Wilmington road Monday afternoon. Music and literary selections contributed to the intellectual features of the occasion.

The program opened with a vocal solo by Mrs. William J. Caldwell, whose beautiful voice and pleasing personality won for her many new admirers.

Mrs. Edith Lockhart Cooper delighted her audience with two readings "The Besetting Sin" and "Opportunity." A piano solo by Miss Mary Long was well received, and Miss Betty Glover with her group of pupils from the George Washington High school entertained the club with a playlet entitled "The Ministers Mistake". Those taking part were Jeanne Gardner, Margaret Louise McCracken, Betty McConahy, Rose Di Thomas and Dorothy Fisher. The playlet, piano solo, reading and novelty dancing showed their dramatic ability under the direction of their capable teacher, Miss Glover.

The concluding number on the program was a vocal solo by Miss Lillian Andrews, who performed in her usual charming manner.

The ladies were then invited to the diningroom where tea was served by the committee comprising, Mrs. Frank Andrews, Mrs. Robert Meermans, and Mrs. J. P. Caldwell. Tea was poured by Mrs. J. B. Love and Mrs. W. T. Burns.

The Circle adjourned to meet early in September.

MUSIC CLUB CLOSES WITH OPERA PROGRAM

The season of the Music club was brought to a close last evening with an opera program, performer by some of the city's best talent. Mrs. B. K. Thacker's musicianship in phrasing and success in conveying her text made her singing unusual.

The voice of William McComb was most agreeably used, and Mrs. William J. Caldwell, a capable musician as well as a singer, favored the guests with her lovely voice. In conjunction with these singers, the club chorus made its second appearance this year. Under the splendid direction of Richard E. Johns and the assistance of Mrs. Paul Welsh, accompanist, they gave three groups of numbers which were well received. It is the sincere hope they will continue this excellent work next season.

After the announcement stating that Junior Day will be held on Saturday, June 13, a social period ensued with Mrs. Burr Rogers and Mrs. John Emery and Mrs. C. B. Randall in charge.

VISITING IN CITY AFTER LONG ABSENCE

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Moore, of New York City are staying at The Castleton for a few days making their first visit to New Castle since 10 years ago.

Mrs. Moore, formerly Miss Anna Breen, was a former resident of New Castle, and has a wide circle of friends here. She and her husband have just completed a motor trip through California, returning by way of Salt Lake City.

They plan to leave the last of the week for Ambridge to visit Mrs. Moore's brother.

CATHEDRAL CHAPTER WILL ENTERTAIN

A delightful event of this evening will be the card party held in the east lodge room of the Cathedral when Cathedral chapter 440 of the O. E. S. entertains the members of the Eastern Star and their friends.

Play will begin at 9 o'clock and there will be bridge and 500.

New Treymore Club

Among the many local organizations for young people, is the New Treymore club which comprises a group of socially prominent young men of this city. Edward Baer and Walter Thorn are in charge of this group, and they state that many plans are being furthered for various activities to be held in the future.

Mr. And Mrs. W. R. Clark Celebrate Golden Wedding

Gold and white were the predominating colors used in the decoration of the Westfield Grange Hall Monday when Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Clark celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage.

A sumptuous wedding dinner was served at noon and the tables were bowers of beauty with the yellow roses, gold banded china and sparkling glass ware. The long tables were laid in the dining room and places marked for 354 guests. The bride's table was adorned with a large wedding cake, surmounted by a miniature bride and groom and the other table decorations carried out the nuptial idea as well as the golden anniversary.

In the receiving line to greet the guests as they entered were Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Scott White of Columbiana, Ohio, who have been married 46 years, Mr. White being an attendant at the Clark wedding of fifty years ago; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clarke, who have been wed 58 years and who were also guests at the Clark wedding in 1881.

Dr. William M. Taylor officiated at the wedding of William R. Clark and Lucy White on May 25, 1881 and of the sixty guests present at the wedding there are now 15 living and of this number those present at Monday's celebration were: G. A. McCreary, Mrs. Lucy Harmon, Blanche McCreary, Mrs. Jesse Hartley, Scott White, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Clark, Mrs. Charles Strohecker, Mrs. J. B. Boggs, Mrs. George Gibson and Mrs. Wilbert Gray. To this union was born three children, all of whom are living; Raymond, a son of Kent, Ohio; Mrs. E. J. Gibson of Mt. Jackson, and Mrs. Mervin Bush of North Lima, Ohio, and they with 14 grand-children, were in attendance Monday.

Following the serving of a delicious dinner the guests were invited to the auditorium of the Grange Hall and here a program filled the afternoon hours.

This room was also a bower of beauty with the addition of spring flowers and many gorgeous bouquets sent the bride and groom of a half century.

The Bush quartet, grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Clark, opened the program with instrumental music; the wedding of fifty years ago was graphically described by Scott White, a brother of the bride. Reminiscences of fifty years ago were given by Robert Clark, a brother of the groom and this was followed by a poem, "The Wedding Fee" given by Lyle Gibson; Howard Gilmore sang "Put On Your Old Grey Bonnet."

Greeting to the happy couple were brought by James A. Kelso from the members of the Bethel United Presbyterian church; from the Westfield church and community, by W. J. Duff, Rev. R. E. Porter of Galion, Ohio a former pastor at Westfield then felicitated the bride and groom and gave a few remarks after which C. A. Stewart, on behalf of the William M. Taylor and the Progressive Bible classes of the Westfield church, presented Mr. and Mrs. Clark with a purse of gold.

A tribute from the children was given by Raymond Clark, Kent Ohio, and the response was made by Mr. Clark in timely and well chosen words, expressing his great appreciation for all that had been done to make this such a happy and delightful occasion.

Mrs. Clark added her bit and referred to her fifty years of married life as being most happy ones and she expressed her gratitude to God for the many blessings he had bestowed upon them.

Rev. Ross M. Haverfield, who acted as toastmaster, closed the program by reading a most appropriate poem by Edgar A. Guest, written recently upon a similar occasion, after which he led the group in prayer.

In addition to the purse of gold bestowed upon Mr. and Mrs. Clark, they received many handsome gifts from friends, relatives and neighbors and the happy wish that they might both live to celebrate their 75th wedding anniversary.

There were guests present from Galion, Youngstown, North Benton, Columbiana, East Palestine, Kent and North Lima, Ohio and Pittsburgh, Beaver Falls, New Wilmington, West Middlesex, New Castle and the Mt. Jackson community.

WOMAN'S CLUB CLOSES WITH RESUME OF YEAR

Another successful club year has been added to the annals of the Woman's Club of New Castle with the closing of the 1930-31 season Monday afternoon in the Highland United Presbyterian church.

Mrs. A. B. Street, president of the club, was in the chair and Mrs. D. Duff Scott was in her place as retiring secretary.

Most excellent reports were given of the work the past year, the club taking an active interest in many civic and philanthropic movements.

Mrs. Harry C. Urmson, treasurer, gave her report, which was most gratifying to the club members, but it was with regret they heard her resignation tendered. The executive committee named Miss Lottie Nicklin to fill the treasurer's post for the new club year.

Mrs. W. A. Pond, chairman of the department of education, then reported on the work of her department last year; one of the outstanding features was the assistance given a local girl to enable her to complete her senior year at State college. For this work the department has a fund which they loan to worthy students. She gave a brief outline of the programs they had sponsored.

Mrs. S. E. Crawford, chairman of the social committee reported on the activities of her department and at the close of her report, in a most gracious manner, presented Mrs. Street with a shoulder corsage of blue and gold flowers, the club colors, as an appreciation of the splendid co-operation Mrs. Street had given the department during the year.

Mrs. T. S. McAnlis gave a report of the legislative department.

Mrs. J. C. Leohner reported for the publicity committee.

Mrs. S. H. Rhoads, chairman of the department of public welfare reported on the work done by that department toward civic projects as well as plans made for sending girls to the Scout and Y. W. C. A. camps this summer.

Mrs. F. J. Thompson, chairman of the civic committee reported on what her members had accomplished through the year.

Mrs. S. D. Pearson, chairman of the department of fine arts, gave her report of the programs handled throughout the year and the capable manner in which her committee had worked.

Mrs. W. L. Cosel, head of the department of International Relations, which is practically a new department in the club, gave an outline of what they were trying to accomplish and told of the formation of a study group in the department.

Mrs. P. H. Reider, head of the Home department, gave her report and was followed by Mrs. John J. Madigan of the Membership committee.

Mrs. E. F. G. Harper, head of the program committee reported on the various programs that had been arranged throughout the year by the different departments.

Mrs. Robert K. Aiken reported on the work of the hospital committee, telling of the donations that had been made as well as the visits to the hospitals, Almira Home and county home.

Mrs. H. M. Kirk gave the report for the Ways and Means committee, which took up the work of making the money for the club.

Mrs. S. L. McCracken reported on the Hospital Foundation committee and suggested methods by which the foundation fund might be started

Mrs. D. Duff Scott, secretary then gave a report which summed up the activities of the various departments. She reported that during the year 32 new members had been enrolled, 21 had resigned and three had passed to the Great Beyond. The club enrollment at this time is 232 members.

At this point the business meeting was declared adjourned and turned over to the social committee: Mrs. S. E. Crawford, Mrs. Andrew Reider, Mrs. E. V. Snyder, Mrs. George Long, Mrs. R. L. Wallace, Mrs. C. W. Nolan, Mrs. B. F. Karlher, Mrs. J. Gail Blim, Mrs. Samuel Klafter, Mrs. W. R. Bingham, Mrs. Robert McBurney, Mrs. G. W. Sutton, Mrs. C. F. McDowell, Mrs. W. G. Eckles, Mrs. B. H. Kannenberg, Miss Jennie Marshall, Mrs. A. G. Murphy and Mrs. H. B. Richards.

This committee served the members with dainty refreshments, the appointments and menu being carried out in the club colors of blue and gold.

P. H. C. No. 5 Event

Last evening marked a social gathering that made merry, when the Degree team of the P. H. C. No. 5 entertained at a card party held in their hall. Lovely prizes were awarded to Mrs. Hazel Hicks, Mrs. William Shaffer, William Osler and Robert Jones for 500 honors; and the bingo awards were given to Miss Nina Strong, Mrs. Mabel Kennedy and Ernie Richards.

An exceptionally large crowd participated at this event.

SEWING AT JAMESON HOSPITAL WEDNESDAY

On Wednesday morning, members of the Naomi Circle of the Highland United Presbyterian church together with other women in the city will meet at the Jameson Memorial hospital and sew on articles from 9 until 12 o'clock.

This will mark their regular event, and it is hoped a large number will turn out to take part in such a worthy work.

G. M. D. Club.

Members of the G. M. D. club met recently at the home of Mrs. Lydia Webster on Front street for a social time. Cards were featured and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Charles Covert, Mrs. Wayne Sines and Mrs. James Kerr. After the serving of a dainty lunch, the ladies adjourned to meet on Friday, June 5, at the home of Mrs. Earl White, Bonzo street.

IMPROVING THE RACE

ENDOWMENT of worthy families by the state, by the churches and by philanthropic foundations as a means of improving the race, is advocated by a researcher in the field of eugenics. Doubtless he thinks it a new idea. At any rate, he advances it with some show of pride, indicating he fancies himself the inventor or discoverer.

That idea was born back in the dark ages when the first enterprising gentleman set himself up as chief of the tribe. Since then the monarchies of the world have had their royalty and the republics, not to be out done, have their jobholders.

This endowment idea is back of a thousand eternal controversies. The poor believe the rich too lavishly endowed. The protest of those who dabble in class government is that the other class is endowed with privilege and power. Today one hears manufacturers, who enjoy tariff protection, and farmers, who have their farm-relief fund, accuse each other of monopolizing all of the endowments handed out by Washington.

The only startling innovation in the new proposal is the limiting of endowments to worthy families. Heretofore political regularity has covered a multitude of sins and nobody has cared a rap about improving the race. Moreover, with the politicians' interest in bigger and better babies being limited to industrial and agricultural infants the improvement of the race will have to rely for a while longer upon vitamin B and the removal of tonsils and the appendix.

HIGH WAGES ESSENTIAL

Vast stores of grain and other commodities are going begging for a market. And yet millions are in want, many starving. The banks are full of money. But there is less money in general circulation than there has been for several years.

Market these surpluses and get this money into circulation and prosperity will return and unemployment end. These are the problems upon the solution of which the best minds of the nation and the world are at work.

The answer does not lie in wage cuts. Wherever that has been tried conditions have been aggravated, not improved. Wage-cutting and unemployment react in the same way upon world consumption. Both curtail consumption, then production and result, finally, in more factory shut-downs and unemployment.

Force wages down to the point where they would only provide for the bare necessities of life and several of the country's largest industries, each employing, directly or indirectly, thousands of men and women, would virtually go out of business. The United States has had prosperity these many years because the masses have been able to buy homes, automobiles, radios, good furniture, fine clothes, jewelry and the other "necessities" of this modern life which provide work for a large part of the nation's population.

There may be a few instances of excessive wages, but in general the country agrees with President Hoover's position that the retention of the high wage level is essential to business recovery.

LET NEW YORK BE ITSELF

The New York Board of Trade has decided the throwing of ticker tape from windows is not a fitting expression of the joy of the metropolis over the arrival of a visiting celebrity. It thinks a "more suitable and dignified" welcome should be substituted.

Too late, probably. Dignified or not, a ticker tape shower is what visiting celebrities now expect when they ride up Broadway to the city hall. It may not be the most suitable welcome, but it is a New York welcome, and that is what celebrities want. They can get suitable and dignified welcomes elsewhere—keys in silver boxes and parchment scrolls attesting they have received the freedom of the city. But only in New York can a distinguished traveler see his fame reflected in tons of torn-up paper thrown into the air by a populace which may have only the vaguest idea of the real nature of his contribution to humanity.

There is one thing New York does well; it has plenty of ticker tape and plenty of tall buildings from which to throw it. Why, then, should it abandon this typical expression for a form that does not express itself.? New York can't be European. It can't even be American. It can only be New York. It's because it is New York that world celebrities land at the Battery and ride up Broadway. If New York ceases to give them ticker tape showers, we predict they will begin landing at Boston.—The Kansas City Times.

GANGSTER CRIMES AND AUTOMOBILE THEFTS

That automobiles have been a great help to gangsters in their business is too well known to need reiteration; but the large part that stolen machines play in crime has induced the National Crime Commission to make a special study of the subject. This commission—which must not be confused with the Wickersham Commission—has just made public its report on the subject. It finds that automobile theft losses for the calendar year of 1929 exceeded $24,000,000 on insured cars alone. The total may be estimated when it is known that insured cars represent one-third of the total number of cars registered in the United States. The net losses do not account for the insurer's expense of doing business, which must be paid by those who insure against theft.

The federal government is doing its part in trying to wipe out the evil and in prosecuting the thieves. Since 1919, when the Dyer act, making it a felony to transport a stolen car across the state line, was enacted the value of stolen cars recovered has amounted to over eighteen million dollars. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1930, the value of stolen cars recovered was $1,869,555. The convictions for that year totaled 2452. When we add to this the conviction for automobile thefts in the forty-eight states—not to mention those never prosecuted—we have a situation which is serious indeed. The conclusion of the National Crime Commission is that the need of the hour is for the states to provide proper means of identification. This is essential to effective aid in the prosecution of automobile thieves. The Dyer act has worked admirably; but unless there is more help from the states the situation is not likely to improve very much.

All this goes to prove that it is not possible properly to enforce any law without vigorous support from the states. And another lesson learned from this latest report on crime is the crying need for uniform laws on the part of all the states. This has been emphasized time and again, but the response continues to be very discouraging.

The rest cure would be a fine thing for the world, if it could begin with tongues.

"Playing Over Your Head" I Hung Around Poolrooms Something I Learned

By MARSHALL MASLIN

I wasn't supposed to be hanging around poolrooms.

But I couldn't keep away from them.

When I was on the way to the library I'd duck into that poolroom in lower Main street, or I'd ride my bike across the bridge to Chinatown and sit around in a poolroom over there. The day wasn't complete unless I played a game of pool. Nickels and dimes I'd earned by making boxes, peddling papers and selling sacks and bottles went for games of "rotation" or "straight pool.". .It wasn't my ambition to come a "tough character" I wanted to be a "pool shark"—one of those lads who can "run the table" any time they care to try.

Well, I never did become a 'pool shark." Something diverted me, other things became more important—I think it was a little girl with dark eyes and pink cheeks. . .But I did learn to shoot a fair game of pool. And on certain days hardly anybody in town could beat me. I'd say, "Eight ball in the side pocket . . .Combination on the three ball off the fifteen into the corner. . . Bank the fourteen into the end." And in they'd go. On those days I couldn't miss a shot. I had luck, nerve, cockiness and accuracy. . . In other words there were days when I Played Over My Head That's what we called it when we played better than we really knew how. It was fun—Playing Over Your head—and I haven't forgotten the pleasure of it, though anybody could beat me playing pool now.

And I learned from that experience that it's always fun to Play Over Your Head at anything. That's when we're happiest—when we Play Over Our Heads. When we're braver than we thought we were. When we're brigher than we usually are. When we're more generous than we dreamed, more self-sacrificing, more tolerant, more broad minded. When everything clicking and everything's purring and we 'never felt better in our lives."

I'm not advising small boys to hang around poolrooms. You can pick up other things in them that might hurt a boy forever. But I did happen to learn from them the pleasure that comes from Playing Over My Head—from seeing the abler or wiser or better part of me come forth and make a public appearance.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

EATS ON THE RUN

The American automat, with all its rush and hurry, has at last conquered Paris, France, where eating for centuries has been a slow leisurely procedure, with every diner a gourmet.

Today, automats have suddenly sprung up in Paris as if by magic. The largest has been opened on the Boulevard des Italiens, an easy stone's throw from the opera. Everybody knows the place and from noon until two in the morning the machines are kept whiling with hungry one-franc pieces. Nor does it stop there, for this particular establishment has found that midinettes from the most fashionable fashion shops in the world like to dance while they eat, and so a dance floor, with a negro orchestra, is set up in one end of the automat.

At noon, and also afternoon, evening and night, the tired business man can grab a plate of veau, some pomme frites and a dozen escargots to the lilt of American jazz. But best of all, glasses of wine, or foaming tankards of beer spout out, in all these places, at the click of the franc.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

LAUGHTER

Who was the first man of the race
Upon this good old earth,
To find within some sombre place
The bubbling springs of mirth.
The dawn of reason has been told,
On stone its signs appear,
But who in those dark days of old
Discovered laughter here?

Who was the very first to see
Beneath the ills men bore
And used to face so solemnly
That there was something more.
That fellow's name I'd like to know
With merriment endowed,
Who bumped his head or stubbed his toe
Then strangely laughed aloud.

Perhaps while blundering on his way
A crystal pool he neared
And saw himself that summer day
His face o'ergrown with beard,
"Am I what women love," cried he,
"Is that my handsome face?
If others see what now I see
This world's a funny place."

And thus began the merry jest
That lightens pain and care,
And sweetens the brief times of rest
Between the ills we bear.
Though nations rise and nations fall
'Tis well for me and you,
That men have learned to laugh at all
The foolish things they do.

If you ask any successful man for the reason for his making good he will tell you that first and foremost it is because he likes his work: indeed, he loves it. His whole heart and soul are wrapped up in it. His whole physical and mental energies are focused on it. He walks his work: he talks his work: he is entirely inseparable from his work, and that is the way every man worth his salt ought to be if he wants to make of his work what it should be and make of himself what he wants to be.

Press Condemns Collegiate Rejection Of Classical Basis

Surrender To Practical Demands Described As Abandonment Of Educational Ideal While Greek And Latin Are Declared Necessary To Liberal Arts

With some few exceptions, the press of the country deplores the action of Yale University, conservative educational institution, in offering the Bachelor of Arts degree without the requirement of Greek and Latin. The HARTFORD TIMES sees "grave cause for regret if the rattle of the typewriter is ever to mean the doom of the stylus," while the ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH exclaims: "Well, let them play football at Yale." The CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR declares that "if many universities by their emphasis upon 'practical' studies have come to resemble apprentice schools that is the dictate of the times." The ATLANTA JOURNAL upholds "languages which supplied the heart-blood of our own tongue," and refers to a system of "virtually no literary background for a literary diploma."

The FORT WAYNE NEWS-SENTINEL suggests that the colleges should "make up their minds as to whether they should specialize in back-slappers or in individuals possessed of intellectual self-reliance," and concludes: "We have no objection to colleges and universities admitting the rank-and-file of idlers for a good time under the elms provided the public doesn't pay the bill. But these should be given some kind of a special, second-rate degree

"It is significant of new trends in higher education," in the impartial judgment of the PASADENA STAR-NEWS, while the ROANOKE TIMES is convinced that "it is futile to resist the modern tendency to put the emphasis upon the immediately practical," but the KANSAS CITY TIMES draws the indictment; "Explanations of Yale's action in eliminating the requirements of Latin and Greek for any undergraduate degree seem to us to be inadequate. The real reason the classic languages are disappearing from the plan of study in American universities is that they never found a place in American politics. Nothing that is not useful in politics can survive, which is why almost everything has ceased to serve in that art except money. There was a time, as late as the last century, when a member of the British house of commons, hesitating over a word in a classical quotation, underwent the humiliating experience of having the whole house rise to give it to him. We suppose the delinquent member was defeated at the next election. But if any member of the American congress has any Latin or Greek he is careful to conceal the fact."

"Our universities," asserts the YOUNGSTOWN VINDICATOR, "are admitting so many young people who have no interest in learning—with the A. B. reserved for those who really have made something of an art of learning."

that they must lower their requirements, with the result that even the more earnest students do not receive the education and the training which were formerly the mark of a college man." The NEW YORK EVENING POST comments: "To fill the void, they are going to let the student take modern languages. What will French, Spanish or Italian be to him without a knowledge of their basic root, Latin? But, as we say, there is little use heaping up words. The thing is done and faculties are the least changeable of human institutions. 'Tis a pity, though, Yale couldn't have given classical culture just one small break. It might be useful to Babbitt, 1932; not, of course, during his active business career (to which everything must be sacrificed) but after he has made his pile and is settling down to collect libraries or buy first editions."

"As civilization grows more complex," says the HARTFORD COURANT, "it may become necessary for the boundaries of learning to close in. It is hard to see such restriction, however, as a cause for rejoicing. The student who does not master Latin or Greek can find its equivalent in mental training and in first hand knowledge of a culture not his own, only in learning Chinese, Sanskrit or some other difficult language. Such arduous attainment would give similar breadth, yet not the close understanding and intense meaning to English, American or European literature which a study of its models weaves into a bright tapestry of allusion and association. A course in the history of classical civilization can scarcely accomplish the same purpose. It will simply give second-hand information which at any time during life could be picked up at will from an encyclopedia. It will not form a good English style, it will not make grammar a vital exercise of the mind, it will not give a sense of intimacy with a day long past. Such a general course in itself bespeaks the great weakness of modern education, aside from the study of the sciences and the technical professions. In endeavoring to comprehend all, it is in danger of becoming superficial."

Support of Latin as the basis for a proper understanding of the language is given by the HARRISBURG TELEGRAPH, the ROCHESTER TIMES-UNION, the MEMPHIS COMMERCIAL APPEAL, the SAVANNAH MORNING NEWS and the CLEVELAND NEWS. The importance of that language as a basis for culture and scholarship is emphasized by the PROVIDENCE JOURNAL and the LOWELL EVENING LEADER.

In support of change, the CHICAGO TRIBUNE points out that Latin was the language of education in the revival of learning after the dark ages, and adds: "The conditions which were natural to education then have been preserved with a devoted and rigorous scholasticism into the present day. The wisdom of the method had been challenged for years and but the habit of generations had hallowed it. When the use of Latin disappeared the effective teaching of it ceased at least in most American schools, although they retained the study. It was the experience of most students to apportion many hours of several years to languages and have no proficiency in any of them, but to let go of Latin and Greek seemed to be cutting adrift from a culture which had dominated intellectual life and had been its essence. The direct benefits derived from the study of the ancients could not be shown."

"The strictly cultural studies," in the judgment of the TOLEDO BLADE, "always should be available, but not compulsory, for young men and women who go to college to learn how to live and earn a living." The ST. PAUL PIONEER PRESS argues: "Yale only follows, at some distance, the example of American universities in general. Even the classicist, himself, concerned with justifying Greek and Latin by the prevailing standards, must admit that he has not made out a case. It is often urged by the splendid old guard of culture that the classics are the really useful studies, that they contribute to clear thought and expression and also to real knowledge as nothing else can. There are few who continue to believe. The real enemy of the classics is the utilitarian spirit of the age, which turns its back upon a vast treasure of beauty, wisdom and moral philosophy."

YOUR WIFE'S FACE

What does the face of your wife reflect?

It very likely tells the story of how you treat her.

If she is well and not suffering from deep bereavement, her face is a pretty sure index of your character in dealing with her.

She may be a good actress and her pride may suggest to her that she appear happy whether she is or not, but there are certain telltale evidences which portray the truth.

Do you bring smiles to her when you enter your home?

Or are you kind and considerate only in the presence of others?

This may satisfy her pride in a sense but there is a deeper grief that you are so gruff and arrogant when you two are together.

Demanding and selfish in the home, you push aside the sweetness of her disposition and leave the imprint of rough roughshod brutality.

You don't like that word brutal but if you do not show her as much consideration as you expect from her, you are brutal and her face tells, be she ever so loyal.

Bible Thought For Today

Christ-like Service—Be kindly affectionate one to another with brotherly love; in honour preferring one another. Not slothful in business; fervent in spirit; serving the Lord; Rejoicing in hope; patient in tribulation; continuing instant in prayer; Distributing to the necessity of saints; given to hospitality.—Romans 12:10-13.

Prayer:

Circulation Of Library Branches Is Heaviest At South Side Office

More books were borrowed from the South Side branch of the New Castle free public library last year than from any other branch in the city, according to Miss Alice Sterling's annual report. Miss Sterling is librarian of the city library system.

South Side residents, judging from the circulation figures for library books, read more than do the citizens in the East Side of the city or in Mahoningtown.

The branch circulation for 1930 was as follows:

New Castle Hospital	2,454
Mahoning	32,599
South Side	39,418
Jameson Memorial Hospital	3,104
East Side	37,023

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

RENTZ CAMP REGISTRATIONS

Forty boys have now registered for the summer vacation at the Fred L. Rentz Y. M. C. A. Camp. Each day additional names are being recorded on the camp roster. One of the most recent is that of George Stitzinger, one of the older campers, who has decided that another season at camp will do him good. R. L. Meermans announces that boys desiring to register should apply at the association office.

LIBRARY NEEDS BOOKS

Several donations of books have been received for the camp. The directors announce that more books are desired at this time. Books of adventure are especially invited.

SWIMMING BEGINNERS

Due to the recent membership campaign a large class of beginners in swimming is expected during the coming weeks. Boys between the ages of 10 and 17 comprise the class which is under the direction of Roger Meermans. The boys will meet Friday at 4:30. This class is one of the featured ones in the boys' department. Approximately 60 boys in the class are taught to swim each year.

PAINT TENT FLOORS

Wooden tent floors at the camp have been painted during the past week. This will be but one of the features of the coming camping season, during which many new innovations for campers will be tried out by the local camp directors. On Wednesday more tent floors will be painted. It is also planned to repair the baseball field.

JUNIOR "B" CLASS

The Junior B's will meet today at 4:30 for a swimming period under the direction of Physical Director MacNichols.

UPARATASA FRAT

The Uparatasa fraternity will meet at 6:30 p. m. today under Ed Beal. Mushball will be played and a social meeting held.

Poultry Expert To Speak On Turkeys

"Turkey Production" will be the subject of H. H. Kaufmann, poultry specialist from State College, at a meeting of county framers Thursday at 9:30 a. m. standard time, at the farm of J. E. Friday, on the New Castle-Ellwood City road. Another meeting will be held at 1:30 the same afternoon at the home of H. M. Neal, near Fayette, Wilmington township, where Kaufmann will address the poultrymen on "Brooding of Chicks." Persons interested in poultry production are invited to attend these meetings.

Lives Of Two Are Saved By Aviator

(International News Service)

FRANKLIN, Pa., May 26.—To a keen-eyed, unidentified airplane pilot, Thomas Ayers, 62, and A. S. Ayers, 75, bachelor brothers living near here, owe their lives.

The unknown pilot saw smoke coming from the roof of the brothers' home near here. Zooming his plane several times, he awoke Thomas and shouted a warning.

Thomas was forced to leap from a second story window to escape the flames after arousing his elder brother.

First Baptist Men To Compete

Will Go To County Convention In Body To Seek Attendance Award

The Men's Bible Class of the First Baptist church voted to attend in a body and compete for the award offered to the Men's Adult Class of Lawrence County having the largest percentage of members present at the evening session of the 93rd Convention of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association which is to be held at the Cathedral Thursday June 11th. At this session there will be a Christian song festival led by John W. Owens, consisting of choir singing, solos, duets and quartettes, as well as singing by the convention assembled, and the address of the evening will be delivered by Rev. A. E. Driggers, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Kittanning, Pa. In all probability Rev. Driggers will deyiver the same address that was so favorably received at the state convention last year.

At the afternoon session an award will be presented to the woman's adult class of Lawrence County having the best percentage of attendance present, based on enrollment.

With the exception of Westmoreland county, Lawrence County has had the best attendance at county conventions of any county in the state and it is possible that this year the record set by Westmoreland county may be passed. State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, Dr. Tope, who was a speaker at the evening's session of last year's convention made the statement that it was the largest and finest group of Christian people he had ever addressed in his many years of service in the state of Pennsylvania.

Phases of Sabbath School work that will be particularly stressed at this convention will be the Childrens Division, Administrative Division, State Camps for Young People and Temperance, Missions and Religious Education.

LOOKING BACK IN NEW CASTLE

It will probably seem rather preposterous to many residents of the city at the present time to say that there was a time when New Castle was quite an important furniture manufacturing center. Nevertheless, such was the case and the wooded districts of Lawrence, Mercer and Crawford counties furnished the wood from which this furniture was manufactured. The wood used was principally black walnut and cherry. Manufacture of furniture was started here about 1869. James Mitchell and Calvin Miller were the pioneers in this industry. They continued in partnership until the fall of 1871, when Miller sold out to Mitchell. Wilson Mitchell, a brother of James Mitchell took an interest in the business, which became known as Mitchell & Company. This firm continued until 1874, when the business was sold to Samuel Dunn, who took his son into partnership. All descriptions of furniture were manufactured but the specialty of the company was extension and breakfact tables.

What is the effect of modern Ultra Violet Rays upon tobacco? Dr. E. E. Free, one of America's well-known scientists, who was retained by us to study Lucky Strike's manufacturing process, addressing the Illuminating Engineering Society, said:

"The essential effect of the Ultra Violet is the production of better tobacco and of cigarettes regarded by virtually all smokers who have tested them as milder and with a lesser tendency to cause throat irritation."

Here in America LUCKY STRIKE is the only cigarette that employs Ultra Violet Rays in connection with its exclusive "TOASTING" Process—the only cigarette that brings you the benefits of the exclusive "TOASTING" Process which expels certain harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos.

MAN DIDN'T LIE

A particularly audacious midnight burglary had been committed, and stringent investigations were being made by the police.

"Did you notice any suspicious character about the neighborhood?" asked the inspector of the constable who patroled the beat on which the robbery had taken place.

'Sure, sir," replied the policeman, "I saw but one man, and I asked him what he was doing there at that time o' night. Sez he, 'I have no business here just now, but I expect to open a jewelry shop in the vicinity later on.' At that I says, 'I wish you success, sorr.' Begorra, sorr," added the constable ruefully, "the man may have been a thief, but he was no liar."

Little Girl Hurt In Fall At Narrows

Pupil In North Street School Is Hurt Hunting Flower Specimen For Nature Class

Agnes, the ten-year-old daughter of Phillip Chamberlain, 115 Quest street, was badly hurt in a fall at the Narrows Monday evening.

Agnes, with her sister Hazel and a group of girls had gone up the Narrows to find wild flowers and they spied what they thought would be a good specimen at the top of some of the large rocks out that way and Agnes and another little girl started up for them.

Near the top, as they were having difficulty in climbing, Agnes slipped, grabbed a small tree, which gave way with her weight and down the hill she came, falling to the road. A passing motorist picked the child up and brought her in town to a physician, but it was found her head had been badly lacerated, her clothing pretty well torn and her body bruised so she was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where her wounds were dressed.

Reports from the hospital this morning were to the effect that her skull is possibly fractured, although she had spent a fairly good night.

Library Loans Several Hundred Thousand Books

Fiction, Literature, Useful Arts, Biography Are Popular With Readers

King fiction, of course, towers high in popularity over the other books in Librarydom, just as he has for centuries, but he must certainly be getting worried over the very much increased popularity of his lowly subjects—Literature, Useful Arts and Biography.

In a report submitted by Miss Alice Sterling, librarian, for the year 1930, a list of the various kinds of books is given, along with the number of times those books were loaned by the New Castle free public library for home use. In those 12 months over 230,000 books were loaned by the library.

Next to fiction, literature is the most popular, judging from the figures. Then comes useful arts, biography, fine arts, travel, history, philosophy, sociology, science, religion, general literature, language in the order named.

Following is the types of books as listed in the report, and the number of times books of each type were loaned during last year:

General Literature	402

Pershing Club Hears Speakers

Attorney John Wherry Of Grove City Tells Of Organization In Mercer County

Members of the Pershing Club, Lawrence County's ex-service man's political organization, recently formed, heard an excellent address by Attorney John B. Wherry of Grove City at their meeting in the Court House last night.

Attorney Wherry told of the organization plans of the Mercer county political association, and how they had overcome many of the difficulties attendant on the formation of the club.

He was accompanied by W. G. Smith of Grove City, who is also a member of the Mercer county club, and who supplemented Attorney Wherry's remarks by further information of the plans made by the Mercer county organization.

The constitution was finally ratified at last night's meeting, and steps were taken to secure representatives on the governing board from every precinct in the county, it being planned to have a county-wide organization which will add considerable strength to the veteran's plans for the future.

A number of additional members were added to the rolls at the meeting last evening.

Last Sunday afternoon there were approximately 50 people from the Emmanuel Baptist church in attendance at the religious service held at the Almira Home on East Washington street. The program included: A hymn with the sisters of the home joining in the singing; scripture reading by Deacon William R. Thomas; prayer by Mrs. William J. Lewis of East Reynolds street; hymn; prayer by Deacon William G. Jenkins; solo, Miss Marion Evans; East Reynolds street; Welsh prayer by Deacon Daniel Williams; a Welsh hymn by choir; prayer by John Harvard; verses by the audience; speech by Griffith Phillips, superintendent of the Emmanuel Sabbath school; singing, "God Will Take Care of You"; benediction by Deacon William R. Thomas. Miss Ann Jones, pianist of the Emmanuel Baptist church, was at the piano.

Rev. Rees T. Williams, pastor of the First Congregational church, was called away last week by the death of Rev. John W. Griffths of Bangor, Pa., who died last week and was buried on Saturday, May 23. Rev. Williams and Rev. Griffiths were great friends for a number of years.

Salvation Army Audit Is Made

Books Of The Local Corps Are Found To Be In First Class Condition

Semi-annual audit of the financial affairs of the local Salvation Army corps was made Monday by Staff Captain C. Lockwood, financial secretary of the western Pennsylvania division, and Adjutant B. Fowle, special efforts secretary, from the Pittsburgh headquarters of the army.

In addition to these audits by representatives of the army, many of whom are certified public accountants, the books of the army are audited by the auditor of the Community Chest. In addition there is the monthly report to the Chest, showing receipts, expenditures and balances on hand.

In this way the public is assured that the money is spent for the purpose given. In the Salvation Army there are no high salaried secretaries and no officer or official is guaranteed any salary, and if it is not available the officer or official does not get it.

This is the basis of Salvation Army work, the workers not looking for a reward in money and believing in higher ideals.

According to the audit just made the income of the army here is mainly dependent on public support, which comes from the Community Chest. The amount received is too small to meet the demands made, the audit shows, and this is the same experience of kindred relief organizations. Ensign V. Thomsen, officer in charge here, has found it necessary to curtail some of the relief work here for that reason. The audit shows a comparatively small overhead. The army asked for $6,000, but owing to the Chest finding it difficult to raise their budget, the army will probably receive but $4,000 this year.

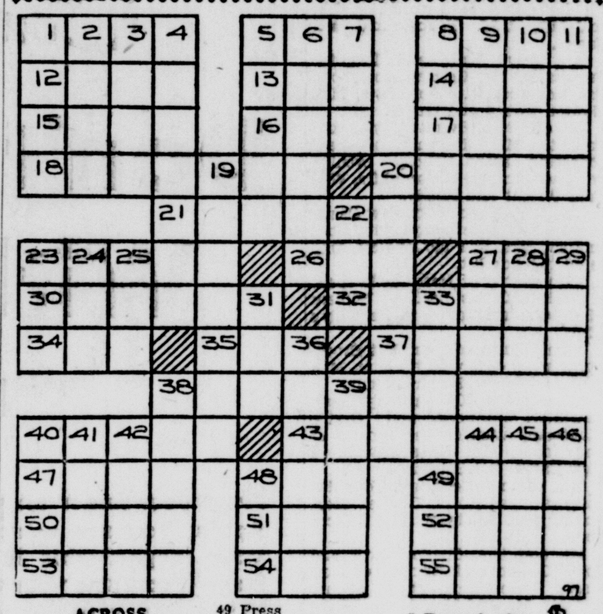

It was estimated that the Salvation Army here would raise $1,500 by collections, but owing to the unemployment situation this has been seriously cut. The army is having the experience of having many people sent to them by people of the community to receive aid, and if sufficient financial income could be assured all could be taken care of, but under its present curtailed income the army has not the means to fully meet all demands made on it.

The Salvation Army hopes the public will support the Community Chest more wholeheartedly in the future, in order that the army may be enabled to render a greater service for New Castle and Lawrence county.

Local Naval Man Enjoys Service

Writes Interesting Letter To O. O. Pierson, Naval Recruiting Officer

O. O. Pierson, chief electrician's mate, who is in charge of the local recruiting station of the United States Navy, has just received an interesting letter from Earl G. Zellman, local young man, who enlisted here. According to the letter, Zellman is enjoying the service very much.

His letter follows:

Hospital Corps School,
San Diego, Cal.
May 19, 1931.

Mr. Pierson:—

Sorry I did not write you before this. I spent three weary months at Great Lakes before being transferred here. I had a very enjoyable trip down here. The sights across the desert were very interesting. Picturesque mountains and wild plant and animal life were abundant and made the trip most enjoyable.

I left Chicago Tuesday, February 17 and saw many points of interest in Kansas City, Topeka, Santa Rose, El Paso, Phoenix and Los Angeles. Upon arrival in Arizona and nearby states, the scenery changed quite a bit.

I like it very much in San Diego, Cal., but still I prefer the east. I have completed two months in the Hospitaf Corps School and like the work very much. I am much interested in the school and believe that I will make a success. I don't know about the naval academy, because we have nine months sea duty before taking the examination and sea duty looks pretty slim for a Hospital Corps man. When we leave school, we start first in a hospital on shore.

I expect to graduate about the last of June, as I am in C Class now and D Class is completing its work. I wish you great success in your duty at sea and don't forget to write.

Very Sincerely Yours,
Earl G. Zellman.

P. S. Have you sent any men as candidates from New Castle lately. I've been looking for them.

Move Original W. And J. College To New Foundation

Old Log Cabin Which Housed First Students In Canonsburg Is Placed

WASHINGTON, Pa., May 26.—Work of moving what is probably the oldest school building in Western Pennsylvania was just completed when the old McMillan Log College, now Washington and Jefferson College, was placed on a new foundation in front of the Canonsburg High School, Canonsburg, Penna. It was moved from the rear of the building and will later be covered to preserve it by the national fraternity of Phi Gamma Delta, which was founded in the building.

Pioneers, who years ago crossed the Alleghenies from the East, brought with them a militant faith in education, and on their arrival in Western Pennsylvania, immediately took steps to found a school. The Log College was built near Canonsburg as Jefferson Academy in 1780. In Washington a school known as Washington Academy was founded in 1787. The library for this latter school was started by a gift of fifty pounds by Benjamin Franklin.

The school at Canonsburg became Jefferson College in 1802 and the one at Washington became a college in 1806. In 1865, when both schools lost students due to the Civil War, and in order to secure a gift of $50,000 from the Rev. C. C. Beatty, of Steubenville, Ohio, the schools merged. For the first few years part of the work was done in Washington and part in Canonsburg. This plan was found to be unsatisfactory, and finally the school, as Washington and Jefferson College, was located in Washington, Penna.

The enrollment of the college is limited to 500 students, its class of approximately 80, to be graduated on June 9 of this year.

HAM TASTES BETTER WHEN BOILED OR BAKED WITH SUGAR

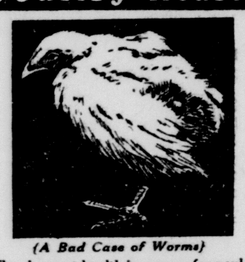

Sugar Combines Ideally with Salty Tang of Smoked Ham

There are few meats that can surpass ham in taste-appeal and popularity. When it comes from the oven glazed with sugar and dotted with cloves, it is tantalizing to have to wait for a pink, savory-sweet slice.

To develop the flavor of ham to the utmost, put half a cup of sugar and half a cup of vinegar in the water in which your half or whole ham simmers. Then after the ham is tender let it remain in the water until cool. The result is a delicious, savory flavor.

Ham, however, is but one of the many foods where sugar can be used to advantage. In seasoning meat stews and pot-roasts, canned or fresh vegetables, a dash of sugar to a pinch of salt greatly improves the flavor. Salt by itself merely overcomes flatness. It is the sugar that "brings out" the flavor. Most foods are more delicious with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

INSURE Poultry Health

(A Bad Case of Worms)

The cheapest health insurance for poultry is to keep them free from worms and in good vigor.

Simple Flock Treatment

Begin treating chicks regularly after they are two weeks old with AVI-TONE, a wormer and tonic; a 100 per cent drug preparation which if fed to chicks and turkeys when two weeks of age will prevent worms and keep the flock in condition; which gives them greater resistance against diseases; saves feed, matures the birds faster and makes for you more profit. Give AVI-TONE to growing birds regularly for rapid development and worm control.

Dr Salsbury's AVI-TONE

Used as a flock treatment for worms in mature birds will not interfere with egg production as most wormers do, but will tone up the system, increase the vigor and appetite and speed up the development of the egg laying organs. Costs only 2½c per bird from chick to laying house.

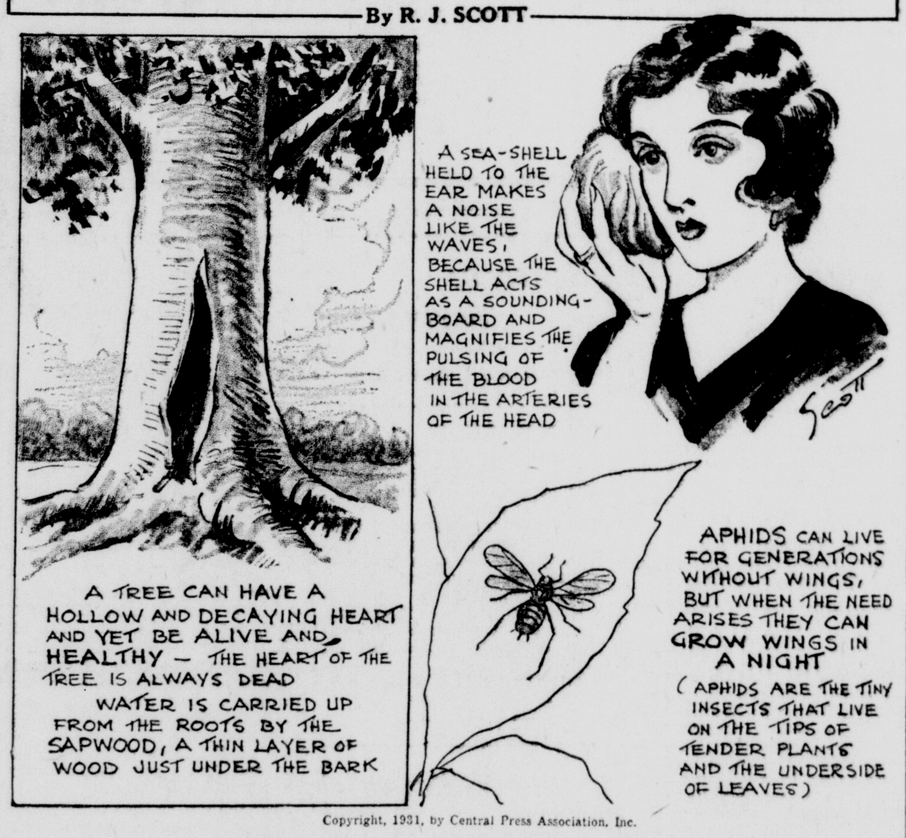

AVI-TONE is the most economical poultry tonic and wormer offered the American public today because it contains no fillers or inactive material. Once used, always used. A 100% drug preparation gets results.

Trans-Atlantic Fliers Set For Dangerous Hop

Three Trans-Atlantic Planes Poised On Roosevelt Field Ready To Go

RUTH NICHOLS IS READY FOR FLIGHT

(International News Service)

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., May 26.—This historic starting point of trans-Atlantic flights hummed today as three trans-Atlantic planes were tuned for ocean hops and a fourth was enroute here.

Wiley Post and Harold Hatty, planning to encircle the globe in ten days, announced they hoped to start for Harbor Grace next week. Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon expect to hop shortly and a nearby hangar houses the ship of Captain George Endres and Alexander Magyar, who intend to fly to Budapest.

The plane of Holgar Hoiriis and Otto Hillig, who are preparing for a flight to Copenhagen, was expected at the field the latter part of this week.

Ruth Nichols, New York girl flyer, may beat her men competitors. She is getting set to fly to Harbor Grace, where she will take off on her solo hop over the Atlantic.

Railroad Seeks Bond Authority

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The Philadelphia, Baltimore & Washington, Railroad today asked the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to issue $5,800,000 of 4½ general mortgage gold bonds. They will be delivered to the Pennsylvania system, which will guarantee them.

Monroe thought up the idea of being the neighbors' keeper, but he didn't mean to apply it here at home.

KING OF BARNYARD SCRATCHERS

It's going to be tough on the neighbors' gardens when this youngster grows up, for nature endowed it with double the ordinary amount of scratch equipment. The four-legged chick, which is the property of Louis Boehm, Montgomery, O., gets tangled up and trips over its spare legs.

Senate Refuses To Give Pinchot Power To "Fire"

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 26.—Standing fast, the Senate by a vote of 20 ayes to 30 nayes today refused to give Gov. Pinchot the power to remove Public Service Commissioners without its consent.

Refusal of the "firing" power came when the Senate took up the bill sponsored by Sen. John W. Howell, Lackawanna, amended in the house to give the chief executive authority to dismiss members of the commission without consulting the Senate and present charges against them.

As originally passed in the Senate, the bill provided only that increased utility rates should not become effective until approved by the Public Service Commission.

ST. LOUIS MAN KILLS HIMSELF

After Wounding Woman Rooming House Proprietor, Man Commits Suicide

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS, May 26.—After wounding Miss Dorothy Hartman, 37, proprietor of a rooming house here today, Sylvester Niehaus, 30, police character shot and killed himself.

According to Miss Hartman, Niehaus was ordered to move from her home recently. Police believe he tried to kill Miss Heitman for revenge.

FINANCIAL TROUBLE CAUSES TRAGEDY

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26—After chloroforming her two small children and watching them die, Mrs. Bernice Foley Saunders tried to end her life by hurling herself into the surf.

Officers found her as she staggered along the beach. "I've just killed my two babies" she moaned.

Deliberately she told them she had held the two youngsters in their cribs pouring a deadly antiseptic into their mouths to kill the odor of chloroform. She had been having financial troubles.

Robert Saunders and his sister, Patricia Lee, 8, may have had some premonition of their death, for yesterday afternoon they gave their toys "two rag dogs" away to their playmates—"for keeps."

Attempt Made To Destroy Home Of Pittsburgh Doctor

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 26.—A plot to destroy the home of a northside doctor was frustrated today with the discovery of a gasoline soaked "welcome mat" blazing in the vestibule of the house.

Two passers-by discovered the fire and notified the doctor, Charles E. Carroll, who summoned the police after extinguishing the flaming mat.

The actual damage was negligible. Dr. Carroll told police that he knew of no reason why an attempt should be made to burn his home.

House Ruled By Monroe Democrat For Short While

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 26.—Pennsylvania's almost-solidly Republican House of Representatives today knew the experience of working under a Democratic speaker.

At the invitation of Speaker Jay Goodnough, Rep. Chester Rhodes, Democrat, of Monroe, last night took the chair and presided over the house during the final passage of a dozen lower chamber measures.

Richard K. Mellon Seeks Authority To Serve P. & L. E. Line

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Richard K. Mellon, of Pittsburgh, nephew of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, today asked the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to serve as a director on the board of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad.

He also asked for blanket authority to hold office or directorships on the affiliated lines of the New York Central system.

Erie Man To Be Given Release

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 26—Joseph Warner, alias Joseph Jarvis, sentenced to 30 days in Beaver county jail in connection with the "Rossiter prisoner substitution" case, today had his stay in jail shortened by five days by order of Federal Judge R. M. McVicar.

Warner's term expires, by today's order, on May 28th, giving Warner his freedom in time for Memorial Day.

Barnesboro Slayer Given Five Years

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., May 26—Frank DePetro, of Barnesboro, today was under sentence of five to ten years in the Cambria county jail following his conviction of manslaughter in the slaying of Joseph Sacca last March.

DePetro pleaded self-defense.

French Visitor Speaks To Lions

Madame Mary Laudner Makes Address At Noon Hour Meeting

In a brief message delivered before the local Lions club today, Madame Mary Lauder of Paris, France, founder and president of the French Federation of Business and Professional Women, stressed the three principal objects of her organization's work across the sea.

"Our aim is to establish a better contact between the French people and the outside world, first," she said. "Then it is also our purpose to establish better relations between men, women and children of my country and to establish a home for the business and professional women in Paris."

The French club leader was presented to the audience by Dr. Mildred Rogers, former president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Business and Professional Women's club.

Madam Laudner is in America to attend the national convention of the B. & P. W. clubs at Richmond, in July, and is making a visit in this section while awaiting the date.

The Lions club is to play host next Tuesday to the surviving Civil War veterans of the county, in accordance with a custom inaugurated several years ago.

THIEF RETURNS $2

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. May 26.—M. J. Henley, superintendent of schools at Fountain, recently received a letter from California, which read: "Dear Sir: Enclosed please find $2 to pay back what I stole from the school about 15 years ago. I don't know what the money was for, but it was in a little box in the teacher's desk in the high school room. The box was left there through vacation and I think I took about $2 out of it. It is standing between God and me." Students voted to use the $2 bill for a new flag.

Progressives To Oppose Increase In Federal Taxes

Progressive Bloc Declares War On Proposition Made By Secretary Mellon

LEADERS PLAINLY WORRIED BY ISSUE

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The progressive bloc, favoring higher taxes on the rich, today declared war on the plans of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon to broaden the field of federal taxation to tax a greater number of citizens.

Progressive spokesmen, led by Senators Couzens (R) of Michigan, and Brookhart (R) of Iowa, declared in favor of taxing the rich in order to meet the government's expected deficit of $2,000,000,000 next year. They advocated higher estate taxes, higher surtaxes on incomes about $100,000 a year and a federal gift tax against the rich. This was in sharp contrast to Mellon's informal suggestion for a reduction in exemptions and imposition of a gasoline tax.

There was a general feeling on Capitol Hill that the administration will bring in a new tax bill at the next session of congress, despite opposition. While there will be a very natural reluctance to propose a tax increase on the eve of a presidential campaign, a number of administration leaders feel it would be far more disastrous to enter the campaign with $2,000,000,000 treasury deficit, and the administration doing nothing to overcome it.

It is said that burlesque theaters saved $2,340,000 in 1930 by using the word "Burlesk" in their electric light signs. In addition think of what they save on costumes.—The Dayton Daily News.

Geneva Senior Wins $50 Prize

JOHN O. EDGAR

BEAVER FALLS, May 26.—John O. Edgar of Greeley, Colo., a senior in Geneva College, Beaver Falls, Pa., has just been awarded $50, the first prize in the Eastern Interstate area contest under the auspices of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association. While the general theme of the contest was "Alcoholic Drink in Modern Society," Mr. Edgar's particular topic was "The Police—Liquor's Wet Nurse." There were seven in Geneva who wrote essays along this line in the Advanced Composition Class under Prof. C. H. Tilghman.

The contest in this area was held among the colleges of Pennsylvania, Delaware, New Jersey, Maryland, District of Columbia and West Virginia, the second prize of $30 being awarded to Miss Estella Simpson, Washington Missionary College, Ta-Koma Park, Maryland, on the subject, "Alcohol—The Refined Poison," and the third prize, $20, to Miss Leslie Eugenia Greenlee, West Virginia University, Morgantown, on "Liquor Restriction in Continental Europe."

Mr. Edgar's paper has now been entered in the national contest of the Association which consists of the winners from the eight areas covering the United States and culminates in June.

NEW MANSION FOR GOVERNOR IS DELAYED

Plan May Be Suggested To Next Session Of State Legislature

(From News Bureau)
(State Capital)

HARRISBURG May 26—The next session of the legislature may be asked to appropriate funds for a new executive mansion. Had conditions been better this year it is at all probable that Governor Pinchot would have requested money for a new home for the chief executive.

For years there has been agitation for a new mansion more in keeping with the other Capitol buildings. The present structure is very inadequate for State functions. Enough money has been expended in alterations on the building to satisfy the tastes of the various "first ladies" to erect a modern mansion.

When he was retiring from the governorship in 1927 Governor Pinchot recommended that a new mansion be built. That has been a quadriennial suggestion at the close of each administration.

Friends of former Governor Fisher tried to prevail upon him the necessity for taking the necessary steps. The only thing he would agree to was the creation of a commission to study the subject. This commission never met nor did it make any recommendations to the 1929 General Assembly. In his final message to the lawmakers early this year the retiring execuitve made no mention of a mansion.

Business conditions at present are considered too unfavorable to embark on any unnecessary construction. The governor has let it be known that he favors increased appropriations for hospitals and mother's assitance over his budget recommendations to meet the present emergency. If conditions are better when the 1933 General Assembly is meeting Governor Pinchot may include a new mansion among his recommendations.

ALL-BRAN BROUGHT WELCOME RELIEF

THOUSANDS of letters attest to the efficiency of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in overcoming constipation. For instance, Mr. James D. McEnery, Alto, Texas, relates his experience:

"For fifteen years I was constantly bothered with constipation. . . . Some eighteen months ago, I began using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. From the first week to this good day, I have never had to take a dose of laxative medicine of any description."

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the largest-selling all-bran cereal in the world. Two tablespoonfuls daily are guaranteed to give relief. How much safer than using habit-forming laxatives.

ALL-BRAN also adds needed iron to build the blood. In the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

MAN IS KILLED BY HARMONY CAR

Charles McDanel, 43, Victim Of Accident At Rustic Park Last Night

(International News Service)

ELLWOOD CITY, May 26.—Charles McDanel, 43, employed in the Greensburg Junk Yards of this city was instantly killed Monday evening by a Harmony trolley car near Rustic Park about 5:30 o'clock.

McDanel was just recently employed in the junk yard. According to reports from local police who were called upon the scene, McDanel was picking junk along the railroad as the car was approaching. The victim is known to police to be hard of hearing and it is believed failed to hear the whistle of the car. The operator of the car gave several warning whistles and thought that he had finally received a response, as the man moved to the side of the tracks. It became apparent that he was still not aware of the nearness of the trolley as he immediately changed his course and cut across the tracks and was struck by the car.

Every indication before the accident was that the man was aware of the approach of the car until it was too late; when he suddenly swerved to go on the opposite side.

The trolley stopped immediately and took the remains to the Vangorder funeral home.

Investigation by local police revealed that the dead man had two brothers, Judson and Dalbert at the Oakshill section of New Brighton and one sister, Mrs. Harry Spring residing in a rural district of that city.

Funeral arrangements are not completed as yet and will be announced later.

Twenty Hurt In Clash Between National Guards And Communists

(International News Service)

MEXICO, CITY, May 26—Four persons were killed and twenty hurt in clashes between National Guards and communists in San Salvador today, acording to messages received here.

The communists were demonstrating in sympathy with Augustin Marti, former chief of staff of General Augustino Sandino, Nicaraguan rebel leader, who has been on a hunger strike for two weeks in protest against his imprisonment on charges of communists activities.

Marti, the mesages said, has been conducting an intensive communist campaign in Central America for some time.

Gave Souvenir To The King Of Siam

(International News Service)

REGINA, May 26.—A souvenir in the form of a beautifully designed brass perpetual desk calendar was presented to the King of Siam, who recently traveled through Western Canada, by the management of the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference which is to be held at Regina, Saskatchewan, July 25 to August 6, 1932.

Similar souvenirs were presented last summer to each of the official representatives of the 45 nations that took part at the World's Poultry Congress held at the Crystal Palace, London England, in which Canada was a conspicuous participant.

The Kingdom of Siam has accepted the invitation to be officially represented at the World's Grain Exsibition and Conference. Sixteen other countries have up to the present accepted a similar invitation

Poster Contest Of Garden Club Will End Today

School Art Students Submit 230 Posters For Judgment This Afternoon

Art posters of 230 students in the junior and senior highs of the city were judged this afternoon in the school administration building as the end came to the annual poster contest of the Garden Club. The posters were designed as a regular part of the art class work in the city schools.

The work was directed by Miss Emilie Solomon, school are director, and the following instructors in the city schools: Miss Helena Burckart, George Washington junior high: Miss Hattie Welsh, Ben Franklin junior high: Miss Melda Davenport, Mahoning, Miss Besse S. Galley, Senior High.

Posters of the schools art classes were also turned over to the safety director of the Carnegie Steel Company's local plant for judging in the annual safety poster contest. Announcement of winners in both contests will be made shortly.

The Garden Club posters announce the date of the coming flower show of the club, September 9 and 10.

WILL COMPLETE

For the purpose of completing final plans for a sales event to take place in early June, the South Side Board of Trade will meet on Wednesday night in the office of Alderman J. Lee Cooper of East Long avenue secretary Hartzell Huston stated today.

The meeting will start promptly at 8:15 o'clock.

The Park Board at Hartford, Conn., has turned over a baseball field for the exclusive use of girls. That's probably the safest way.—The St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Pinchot To Speak At War Memorial

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May, 26.—Gov. Gifford Pinchot will be the principal speaker at the memorial services to be held Memorial Day by the Quentin Roosevelt post of the American Legion at Oyster Bay, N. Y.

The post will unveil a boulder, marked with a bronze tablet bearing the names of Oyster Bay men who lost their lives in the World War.

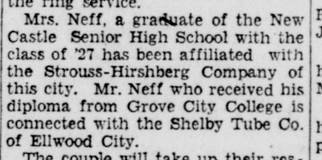

If you allow for the depreciation of machinery, that's sound business; if you do as much for labor, that's Socialism.

Big Gas Well At Grove City

(BULLETIN)

GROVE CITY, May 26.—One of the largest gas producing wells in this section of the state was brought in during the night on the John Smith farm in Liberty township, east of this place, by a Waynesburg company.

The well is estimated at 400,000 feet daily.

BASKET CLUB HONORS MEMBERS AT DINNER

Mrs. Charles Greer and her house guest, Miss Rose Webster of Chautauqua, N. Y., proved charming hostesses Monday evening when they entertained the Basket club members at the New Castle Field club house in honor of Mrs. Helen Newell and her daughter, Mrs. Earl McComes, who leave Wednesday for Washington, D. C., where the latter will make her home.

The affairs was in the form of a 7 o'clock dinner and a very delicious menu was served in the club dining room at tables nicely arranged, at the set hour. Covers were laid for 24 guests. Later a game of cards was in progress, occupying the balance of the evening.

Duvall-Neff Marriage

A marriage of interest to many here is that of Miss Ann Duvall, daughter of Mrs. Flora Duvall, of 419 Norwood avenue to Curtiss E. Neff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Neff of High street, Ellwood City.

The ceremony was an event of April 16 and was performed at Erie with the Rev. Davis pastor of the Presbyterian church officiating with the ring service.

Mrs. Neff, a graduate of the New Castle Senior High School with the class of '27 has been affiliated with the Strouss-Hirshberg Company of this city. Mr. Neff who received his diploma from Grove City College is connected with the Shelby Tube Co. of Ellwood City.

The couple will take up their residence at Ellwood City in the very near future.

Guild Dinner

The members of the Senior World Wide Guild of the First Baptist church met Monday evening for the annual dinner in the dining room of the church.

The table decorations were of a patriotic nature, in keeping with Memorial day and groups 3 and 4 were in charge.

Following a delicious menu Miss Eleanor Louise Campbell of India was introduced as the guest speaker and her talk was a most enlightening one. She and Jessie Jenkins were special guests.

A brief business session was held with Mrs. Harry Cook in the chair and reports were given of the Guild rally held recently in Pittsburgh.

Ministers' Wives Club

Members of the Ministers' Wives Club were entertained Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Margaret Hanna, East Lincoln avenue, and a most pleasant social evening was enjoyed.

Mrs. S. E. Irvine was named as presiding officer for the coming year and the hostess served delicious refreshments at the close of the evening.

Gramoda Kensington.

The meeting scheduled for Gramoda Kensington members Thursday of this week at the home of Mrs. M. L. Porter avenue, has been postponed for two weeks. It will be held at the same place.

YREKA, Calif., May 26.— W. A. Stull, watchman at the Highland Mine in the mountains southwest of here, reports having seen a white fawn near the mine. The deer, the skin of which is used in the white deer skin dance of the Indians, is very rare and such an animal has seldom been seen here. On three occasions the white fawn and its mother approached close to Stull's cabin. He has not seen it recently and fears that coyotes may have killed it.

Vatican Protests Recent Action By Spanish Officials

Recent Proclamation Of Religious Liberty Brings Note From Vatican

(International News Service)

VATICAN CITY, May 26.—The Vatican today formally presented the Republican Provisional Government of Spain with a new note protesting against the recent proclamation of religious liberty in that country, according to an official announcement.

The Vatican was believed to have based its protest on the grounds that the new government, soon after coming into power, notified the holy see that no change would be made in the status of the Catholic church without the consent of the people and of the cortes.

The Vatican also considered the decree a violation of the concordat between Spain and the church, which was signed in 1851.

The Vatican holds that the concordat cannot be abrogated save by mutual consent.

Daugherty Home After Ten Years

New Castle Boy Has Made Good And Is Now Manager Of Plant At Prescott, Arizona

William S. Daugherty of Prescott, Ariz., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Daugherty of Croton avenue. Mr. Daugherty is a New Castle boy who has made good in the west. He went to Phoenix, Ariz., with his family 20 years ago. Ten years ago he came back home on a visit. He has not been here since until his arrival yesterday.

For many years Mr. Daugherty has been connected with the Swift Packing company. That he has made good is evidenced by the fact that he is now manager of the Swift plant at Prescott. He says that business conditions have been fairly good at Prescott until recently, when a drop in the price of copper caused a shutdown of some of some of the mines. Prescott is in the center of a big mining district and depends largely on mining camps for trade.

Cattle raisers and Indians have also been hit by the depression Good cattle are being shipped from ranches at $18 to $30 per head. Indian blankets which the Navajoes and Apaches used to sell for $125 can be bought for a fifth of that price.

Mr. Daugherty says that the officials down at Phoenix are very much annoyed that they do not receive the reward offered for the capture of Irene Schroeder and Glenn Dague, murderers of Corporal Brady Paul. Strangely enough Mr. Daugherty saw Irene and Dague on the morning of the day on which they were captured. Something had gone wrong with Daugherty's car. He was trying to fix it, and attempted to flag them, but they passed at terrific speed. Soon after he learned that they were caught.

Daugherty expects to be home about two weeks during which time he expects to have a good time with his old friends and school mates.

Biennial Meeting Presbyterian Women

Women's Missionary Organizations Of The Presbyterian Churches In Pittsburgh

Many delegates from the women's missionary organizations of the Presbyterian churches of the Shenango Presbytery are in Pittsburgh this week attending the Biennial Meeting, which is in session in the Bellefield Presbyterian church at the corner of Fifth and Bellefield avenues.

The sessions opened Friday morning and will continue today and close Wednesday.

Mrs. Henry C. Swearingen, of the Board of National missions, will preside at this evening's session, which will be held in the Third Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh and the speakers will be Rev. Joseph A. Vance, D. D., president of the Board of National Missions, whose subject will be "The Unfinished Task on the National Mission Fields" and Rev. Robert E. Speer, D. D., secretary of the Boarc o' Foreign Missions, whose topic will be "The Unfinished Task on the Foreign Missions Field."

Wednesday from 11:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. there will be a Communion service, presided over by Rev. Hugh Thomson Kerr, D. D., moderator of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A.; Dr. Chen Ching Yi, moderator of the United Church of Christ in China, and Rev. Robert MacGowan, D. D., pastor of the Bellefield church.

This sacrament of the Lord's Supper will bring a most successful conference to a close.

DOES "IMPOSSIBLE"—LIVES

Aviators said it simply couldn't be done, so Robert Brahm, at Culver City, Calif. (right), went out and did it—and lives to tell the world. So far as the courageous flier knows he is the one and only who has succeeded in doing an inverted spin and then come out of it right side up, still in his ship and ready for a safe landing. He started a loop, and at the top of it—5,000 feet up—when he was upside down, he nosed his ship up into a stall. The nose of the plane promptly dropped and the ship began to spin, the tail describing circles in the air. Still upside down, at 2,000 feet, Brahm pulled the ship out of the spin, flew on his back for a while and then did a verticle half-circle to get back to normal. Sketch shows how it was done.

MISLEADING PIE-CRUST

Booksellers have taken up the cudgels against publishers asserting that misleading and untruthful statements are printed on wrappers of many new books and demanding that publishers guarantee the truth of their "blurbs," on the money-back basis.

Expecting a book to live up to its jacket—"blurb" is like demanding that a bottle of Bronx "Scotch" live up to its label.

DUO OF CYRANOS

The Duchess was skimming thru a snooty illustrated book review the other night.

"Why, that's funny," she said. "They've got a picture of Jimmy Durante here."

She tossed the paper across to me. It wasn't Jimmy Durante at all. It was James Fenimore Cooper.

And if you don't think they look alike, stack their pictures side by side and get the shock of your life.

A TROUPER'S VALE

The following communication from Louise Muldener appear in Equity Magazine. It is reprinted here as a touching human document that may mean something to old-timers:

"On the first of April I became a guest of the Actors' Fund of America in the Percy Williams Home, East Islip, L. I., and I find myself with questions as to why I took this step.

"All my life my ambition was to die in harness. I worked as hard as I could, as long as I could, at anything I could—even to summers in Chautauquas and winters on the lyceum circuits—anything to stay at work and out of debt. Though generally able to command only a modest salary, I was able to do this and even to take occasional trips abroad and enjoy other luxuries.

And then the dark clothes came—not alone due to old age, for when I was 72 I embarked on a two-year tour with Bertha Kalich in 'Magda' and never missed a performance. But there was a growing scarcity of parts. Little by little the bank account was dwindling. 'Nothing today. Nothing at all,' from the managers and agents. A futile search for other lines of endeavor! And I couldn't beg. The words remained glued to my lips.

"Wireless after wireless I despatched to the Manager behind the clouds to release me from this role. Always the answer came back. 'Not yet!' But oh, when it seemed darkest the Actors' Fund shed its beams of gentle light across my black horizon.

"So there is no more need for me to answer questions as to how I am and what I am doing, with a ghastly smile, and tears in my throat, or to cheat myself or others with my replies, or to hide my age.

"Now at 77 I bid my adored profession good-bye, without bitterness and with the deepest gratitude and heartfelt appreciation for Daniel Frohman, the late Percy Williams and all those who have labored to provide a haven of rest, comfort and happiness in these wonderful homes.

"The next to the last chapter is finished. I can only wait with interest and without fear the completion of that last chapter, of which, now, only a few pages remain."

RUNNING EXPENSES

A run in her stocking may be an annoyance to Mah-dam, but it's a real tragedy to hotel men, managers of several Manhattan hostelries confess. All admit that when an irate customer demands compensation for damages to stockings caught and torn on the furniture, they pay, in amounts estimated at from $50 to $500 a year.

THE GOLDEN PEN

Be an author. Easy work, big pay. Last year Harper's Magazine received 25,000 manuscripts, or about 80 a day. It uses about 175 annually.

The Saturday Evening Post receives about 1,000 a day.

Trapped By Police Killer Ends Life At Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 26.—Trapped by police in a radio car as he was fleeing from a murder here, Frank Szabo, 40, exchanged shots with his pursuers and then shot himself in the head.

A few minutes before, Szabo had shot Tom Demhoff, 48, through the head in an argument over a $900 board bill he owed Demhoff.

Demhoff's widow, who was in the yard at the time of the shooting, told police her husband had ordered Szabo to move out. Szabo, she said, had not paid anything on his bill for several years.

Surprised at the quick arrival of police, Szabo ran into a clump of woods, firing as he fled.

When he saw that he was cornered, he placed the gun to his forehead and pulled the trigger.

Let Contract For Memorial Organ

Pipe Organ In Grove City College Chapel To Be Memorial To Pittsburgher

GROVE CITY, May 26.—Contract was let here Monday to the Kimball company of Chicago for a pipe organ to be erected in the Harbison Memorial chapel now in course of construction at Grove City college. The instrument will be a memorial to the late Mrs. Frances St. Leger Babcock, wife of F. R. Babcock, deceased, of Pittsburgh, for years president of the board of trustees of the school.

A bequest for the establishing of a memorial to his wife was made in the will of the late Pittsburgher. Recent selection of the organ was made and with the letting of the contract Monday it is said that work will start just as soon as the building progresses to a point where it is possible.

HOLD MAY PAGEANT

The annual May pageant of the co-eds of Grove City college will be held tomorrow, May 27, on the college campus. The date is a postponement from May 23 made necessary due to rain. The program involves the crowning of the May queen and a pageant presented by 250 co-eds.

LEASE OIL LANDS

Continued leasing of farms in Liberty and Pine townships on the part of Waynesburg oil and gas operators is made known today. The company has already under lease 1500 acres and will total their leasings at 2000 acres, it is said. It is their intention to thoroughly test the territory. Wells will be drilled to a depth of 3000 feet to determine the oil and gas productions in all sands.

Gas wells of exceptional value have been struck by operators for years in the Berea sand found at a depth of 800 to 1000 feet. Fifty wells in a period of 40 years have been drilled in this very productive territory.

The largest gasser ever struck is that of Bundy Brothers brought in last November estimated at over half a million feet. The well was sold to the Union Heat & Light.

EISENBERG TO PREACH

Dr. J. I. Eisenberg, president of Slippery Rock State Teachers college, will preach at the Grace Methodist church next Sunday at the hour of morning worship held at 11 o'clock.

AWARD PRIZES

Finals in the Lt. James Peeples extemporaneous speaking contest for Grove City college students were held at morning chapter hour yesterday.

The judges announced the prizes as follows: First, Clayton Sheasley, $20; second, Richard Bowen, $10, and third, Helen Tomer, $5.

This contest is held each year and the prizes are given by Attorney Myers of Pittsburgh in honor of his friend, Lt. James Peeples who gave his life in the World war.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

Conditions Of Drought Bring Ills

Diseases Follow Subnormal Rainfall—Clendening

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

It is NOT at all unlikely that in many parts of the country this summer, epidemics of disease distinctly related to the drought of the last year will arise. Such conditions have occurred in the past; there is no reason to suppose they will not do so again.

For three years now there has been a deficiency in rainfall over wide areas in the United States. In 1928 it was largely confined to the western states and especially the northwest. In 1929 this area of subnormal rainfall moved eastward, and during 1930, 40 out of 48 states had less than normal rainfall. At the present writing there has been no relief in the situation, and according to the weather bureau, such droughts have a tendency to perpetuate themselves and the chances are that this one will continue in force.

"The major effect of such long continued deficiency is the progressive lowering of the ground-water levels throughout the afflicted areas," says the New York Annalist. "This not only reduces the flow of water running on the surface but, in addition, makes each successive rainfall for a considerable period into the future of negligible effect in augmenting stream flow."

In localities where adequate disposal and rapid removal or destruction of sewage is not possible or enforceable, drought condtions are very likely to give rise to infectious intestinal diseases. Last summer bacillary dysentery was noted several times by private practitioners and in some parts of the country an intestinal disease not certainly identified, accompanied by ulceration of the intestine. It occurred endemically, that is to say, in particular regions.

Rapid removal of surface fluids and drainage into open creeks, rivers, lakes or ocean water, where the sun and air can sterilize sewage, pevents these consequences in average weather conditions. But during droughts, especially in communities where drinking water comes from wells and cisterns, the danger of epidemical fluxes is increased.

Speaking of bacillary dysentery, Osler says, "Owing to improved conditions, dysentery has become less frequent. In temperate climates sporadic cases occur from time to time, and at intervals epidemics prevail, particularly in overcrowded institutions. Records of widespread epidemics have been collected. The most serious was that which prevailed from 1847 to 1856." The predisposing causes of dysentery says another text book are (1) bad sanitation and (2) crowding. Flies are liable to spread the disease. The bacilli can live several days in the fly's intestine. Food and water contamination is an important source of infection.

Preventive measures include boiling the drinking water. Prevent flies and other insects from contaminating food. Typhoid fever is another intestinal disease liable to appear under drought conditions and can be absolutely prevented by individual typhoid inoculations. Children of two or three years of age or older who have never had typhoid preventive vaccination should certainly be given it. Children stand such inoculations as well, or better, than adults.

Memorial For Old Firemen Recalls Old Fire Chiefs

Interesting Information On Former Fire Department Heads Revealed

The annual firemen's memorial service held in the First Christian church Sunday and attended by members of the paid and volunteer departments, aside from the interest of the program was instrumental in revealing data on the former chiefs of the department.

Do you remember any of the exchiefs of the New Castle Fire Department? Here they are from the creation of the office in 1872 to the present time:

1. Captain John Young, 1872-1876.
2. George Hagan, 1876-1878.
3. Joseph Stritmater, 1878-1879.
4. Col. D. M. Cubbison, 1879-1880.
5. Capt. A. S. Love, 1880-1881.
6. W. W. Cubbison, 1881-1892.
7. James H. Brown, 1892-1901.
8. Frank J. Connery, 1901-1924.
9. Charles H. Lynn, 1924-

H. Clair Stockman, assistant chief, 1924.

On September 29 next, it will be 95 years since the first Fire Company was organized in New Castle, of which any records are obtainable. This organization was headed by William Dickson, Captain.

In the year 1848 the first Fire Engine was brought to the City of New Castle. This was hand drawn.

In the year of 1875, the first team of horses was purchased for the Fire Department.

In the year 1911 the first piece of motor apparatus was purchased for the Fire Department.

Today the entire Fire Department is motorized with ten (10) pieces of apparatus consisting of seven (7) combination Hose and Chemical Trucks, 1 75-ft. Aerial Hook and Ladder Truck, 1 Chief's Car and 1 City Service Truck.

There are 43 full paid members in the department, who work on the two (2) platoon system, i. e. 10 hours day turn and 14 hours night turn, changing every 3 days, working 24 hours each day to change the turns.

There is also one chief and one assistant chief who are on duty at all time, day and night.

Five Suspects In Robbery Are Held

Three Men, Woman And Girl Held By Police For Robbing Aged Man

VICTIM TORTURED BY YOUNG BANDITS

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., May 26.—While five alleged suspects in the holdup and robbery of a 65-year old farmer were under close surveillance today, details of the attempted theft, which resulted in the torturing of the aged man by his attackers, two of whom were young girls, were disclosed at the district attorney's office where a confession to the deed is claimed.

Arnold Rahoff, 24, of California, and Mrs. Mary Barton, 29, two of those held, were injured when a running gun battle with Charlerio police ensued at the five were apprehended in their automobile on the Allenport-Charleroi road.

The others held are Gene "Red" McCracken, 29, and Mike Alter, 28, both of Charleroi, and Mrs. Barton's sister, Miss Alice Cole, of Elco.

Confess Robbery

Chase for the suspects followed the reported robbery of Gus Edwards, 65, of Strabane township, near Charleroi, according to the confessions district attorney Warren Burchinal is reported to have obtained from the group, a holdup of Edwards was planned in the attempt to steal $3,000 thought to have been hidden on the premises.

Rahoff paid Edwards a visit, together with the two women, the alleged confessions stated. Shortly afterwards, the two accomplices entered and announced that they were being held up. All five then assaulted Edwards, police said, in the attempt to wrest the supposed hiding place for his money. When their asserted victim convinced them that he had no hidden money they fled with $1.35 which they found on his person.

Police Give Battle

Early yesterday Charleroi police were tipped that a car bearing the suspected bandit gang was nearing Charleroi and an effort was made to stop the machine in which they were riding. A fusillade of shots greeted police, they said, and in the exchange of gunfire Rahoff sustained a head-wound while Mrs. Barton was gazed by one of the bullets. All five surrendered finally, police said.

Later the suspects were removed to the county jail here where they underwent intensive gruelling at the hands of authorities.

A standup of the gang was planned for today so that businessmen victimized in a series of holdups in the Monongahela valley might view the suspects to determine whether they participated in any of the robberies.

Supreme Court Hands Down 5 To 4 Ruling In Oath Case

WASHINGTON, May 26.—By a majority of one, the Supreme Court decided an applicant for citizenship must take an oath to fight, if necessary, for the United States.

This conclusion was reached in the cases of Marie A. Bland, now in New York, Canadian war nurse, and Prof. Douglas Clyde MacIntosh, Yale theology professor, also a Canadian.

Justice Sutherland delivered the majority opinion and Justices Butler, McReynolds, Van DeVanter and Roberts agreed. Chief Justice Hughes read a vigorous dissent and Justices Holmes, Brandies and Stone, often found together in minority opinions in the past also dissented.

Pointed To Schwimmer Case

The government in opposing the naturalization of Miss Bland and Prof. MacIntosh because they would not take an oath to bear arms in defense of the United States under all circumstances, said the question already had been settled by the refusal of the court to allow Rosika Schwimmer, Hungarian writer, to become a citizen.

She also refused to take an oath to fight for the country. Justice Sutherland took the view the cases were ruled by the principle laid down in barring her.

He quoted from the decision of Justice Butler in that case, on May 27, 1929, which said "that it is the duty of citizens by force of arms to defend our government against all enemies whenever necessity arises is a fundamental principle of the Constitution."

Chief Justice Hughes said the cases hinged on the narrow point whether congress had exacted a promise to bear arms as a condition of its grant of naturalization.

SHIP'S 50TH BIRTHDAY

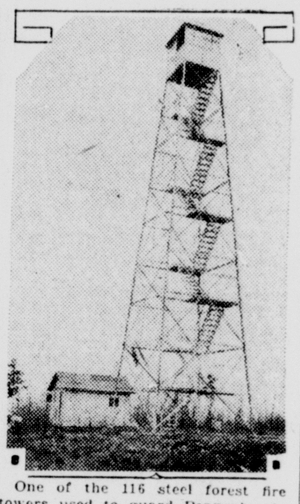

(International News Service)

BREMAN, May 26. — This summer brings the 50th anniversary of the placing in service of the first German fast steamer. On June 23, 1881, the "Elbe" started on its first trip to America, and its five trips in that year brought in net profits of more than a half million marks, or a fifth of the ship's entire cost. The "Elbe" had a length of 420 feet and a gross register tonnage of 4,510.

"Penn's Woods" To Be Full Of Trees Again; Forests Are Regrown

Pennsylvania's Reforestation Program Restores Semblance Of Old Glory In Once-Proud Tree Empire

A white pine stand on reforested land in Pennsylvania.

By S. M. HOUSE
Central Press Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 26.—When the far-flung area that is now Pennsylvania was ceded to William Penn by an absentee monarch such a remarkable, unbroken forest covered most of the land that it was called "Pennsylvania"—which, literally, means Penn's Woods.

In recent years, however, there remained few vestiges anywhere in the state of this once mangificent forest, so prodigal have been the ravages of the woodsmen's axes and so insatiable the maws of innumerable sawmills.

Now the state is engaged in a comprehensive program of reforestation which promises to bring back to Pennsylvania some semblance of its primeval sylvan glory. It is a significant fact that nearly one-half of the land area of Pennsylvania is still essentially forest land. In virtually all cases the wood growth upon this land is scrub timber, dwarfed second growth timber which but little resembles the great, spreading trees of the virgin timber stand.

First Reforestation in '98

Pennsylvania acquired its first forest land for reforestation in June, 1898, at a time when the officials and citizens of the commonwealth were beginning to pay heed to the warnings of those who voiced a plea for conservation of timber and sensible reforestation which would provide a supply of timber for coming generations. At that time the plea for reforesting the land that had been denuded of its first growth trees was meeting with an ever-increasing crescendo of popular support. It happened to be both good politics and sound business procedure to launch such a program.

Thirty years later the state forests of Pennsylvania covered an area of 1,133,444 acres, with more than 150,000 acres having been added in a single year.

Today the business of reforesting a large part of the state is going on apace, with a well-synchronized, adequately financed organization pushing the work in a way that promises real returns on the money and effort expended.

Twenty-Four Districts

To handle the state forests properly and give adequate attention to the many details necessary in the work of reforestation, Pennsylvania is divided into 24 forest districts, with a technically trained forester in charge of each district, who is assisted by assistant district foresters, forest rangers and other subordinate employes. At a recent counting of noses there were 45 foresters and 73 forest rangers in the state forest service. Of course there are hundreds of so-called temporary employes who in season aid in the protection of forests, the planting of seeds and seedlings, the building of forest roads and trails and other work incident to the proper administration of the state forest empire of more than a million acres.

When the state began the work more than 30 years ago, practically all of the land was in deplorable condition. Woodchoppers had cut the most desirable timber. Forest fires had burned unchecked. In spite of the many handicaps encountered, the work progressed until the highly technical business of administering the state forests showed cash receipts of $734,782.05 in a 27-year period. Of this amount more than $425,000 was deposited in the state school fund.

C. D. Of A. State Convention Closes

Mrs. Ida M. Suber Is Named To Represent Court At National Convention In July

Mrs. Ida M. Suber, past grand regent of Court Theresa Irene, local chapter of the Catholic Daughters of America, has returned from Harrisburg, where she represented the local court at the state convention.

The convention was held in the Penn-Harris Hotel at Harrisburg last week and was attended by delegates from every court in the state. The business sessions took up the morning and afternoon sessions and the evenings were given over to entertainment, the high spot of the convention being the banquet Thursday evening. Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, wife of the governor, as well as the mayor of Harrisburg welcomed the delegates.

The general topic of the banquet talks was "Twenty Epochal Years" taking up the work of the organization during that time. At this time the dignitaries of the state spoke.

The officers named for the coming year were:

Rt. Rev. John Mark Gannon, D. D., L. L. D., C. L., State Chaplain, Erie, Pa.

Miss Nora B. King, Vice State Regent, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mrs. J. A. Donnelly, State Treasurer, Latrobe, Pa.

Miss Mary Lambert, State Monitor, Philadelphia, Pa.

Mrs. Suber was honored by being named as delegate to the national convention, which will be held in Atlantic City in July.

Food Shortage In Strike Zone

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., May 26.—Sufficient food supply for striking miners and their families in this county is becoming an acute problem, according to William Dalrymple, international organizer in the Monongahela county field. He declared that organizations that had promised aid in the way of food supplies were still "making arrangements," while men, women and children were hungry. The local post of the Salvation Army today established a canteen at Osage, center of the strike zone, chiefly for the feeding of children.

CHRISTIANS WIN

The First Christian church mushball team defeated the First U. P. 15 to 2 in a game played in the New Castle Church Mushball league last night. The game was featured by Ryan who hit two, and Herbold and Carpenter.

How to End RHEUMATISM

New Medicine Drives Rheumatic Poisons From Joints and Muscles

EASES PAIN FIRST DAY

Poisons settling in the joints and muscles cause rheumatism. You cannot get rid of rheumatic agony till every trace of these dangerous poisons is driven out of your system. That's why external remedies and pain deadening drugs only give temporary relief.

What you need is RU-MA, the new medicine now sold by all druggists; that acts directly on the liver, kidneys and blood, and helps expel through the natural channels of elimination the dangerous poisons that cause rheumatic misery.

No long waiting for your suffering to stop. RU-MA eases pain the first day and is the one rheumatism remedy guaranteed to free muscles and joints from all painful stiffness, swelling and lameness, or nothing to pay.

Eckerd's, New Castle Drug Co. has so much confidence in RU-MA that they want every rheumatic in town to try it and guarantee money-back if it does not end rheumatism.

Film Actress Is Disturber, Faces Arrest By Police

Hollywood Police Are Hunting For Miss Jocelyn Lee, Broke Many Windows

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., May 26.—On a complaint signed by Ivan St. Johns, play broker and writer, police today were looking for Miss Jocelyn Lee, red-haired film actress. St. Johns charges her with disturbing the peace by kicking out 12 panes of glass in his dining room.

Luther Reed, film director, former husband of Jocelyn, who is staying at the St. Johns' home, told the prosecutor the trouble started over their children. He had gone to Miss Lee's Sunday to take the two for their weekly outing provided by their recent divorce decree and she insisted on going with them. This he refused to let her do. Later, he said, she appeared at St. Johns where a number of guests were present.

FARMER STRICKEN AS HE PLOWS FIELD

(International News Service)

JEANNETTE, Pa., May 26.—Lieut. Commander Harold Ely, Jeannette, was enroute today for Seattle from where he will embark for Yokohama, Japan, to begin a three-year term as Lieutenant Commander in the U. S. Navy fleet in Japanese waters. He was graduated from Annapolis naval academy in 1915.

HEALTH IMPROVED

"Ten Herbs has done wonders for me," said Mr. W. L. Snyder, 212 Second Ave., Butler, Pa. "My appetite was poor and I was troubled with gas, bloating and heartburn. Nervousness disturbed my sleep and at times I had terrible dizzy spells. I suffered with lumbago and had pains in the back of my neck. I tried Ten Herbs and now my stomach is in fine condition. Gas, bloating and heartburn have left me. I sleep soundly and dizzy spells and the pains across my eyes are gone. I am not troubled with lumbago or those pains in the back of my neck. I feel like a new man and will gladly recommend Ten Herbs to anyone."

Ten Herbs is sold at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 E. Washington St., and by all leading druggists throughout this entire section.

Kirkland Trial May Reach Jury Sometime Today

DEFENDANT SCORED BY PROSECUTION

Judge Crumpacker Will Give Jurors Six Verdicts Which They May Find

(International News Service)

VALPARAISO, Ind., May 26.—Closing arguments by attorneys continued today with the prospect that the fate of Virgil Kirkland, Gary, Ind., high school football star, charged with the murder of his sweetheart, Arlene Draves, would be in the hands of the jury late this afternoon for the second time.

A verdict of guilty with life imprisonment as the sentence was given by the first jury after short deliberation. And it is possible that a verdict may be reached tonight. After three more lawyers, two for the prosecution and one for the defense state their cases, Judge Grant Crumpacker will give his instructions to the jury of Porter county farmers and merchants. He is expected to give them a choice of six verdicts ranging from first degree murder carrying a death sentence to ordinary assault and battery with a maximum fine of $1,000 and six months sentence in the county jail.

Kirkland Scored

Edmund J. Freuend, of the state, brought yesterday's oratory to a close with a demand for the death penalty. He said to the jury; "the whole country is waiting for your verdict, by which you can put a stop to young men calling on your daughters and mine with a bottle of gin instead of a bouquet of roses in their hands."

Freund denounced the tactics of defense attorneys in trying to undermine the character of the dead girl, and hinting that Mrs. Bernice Elser, another attendant at the fatal drinking party, might have struck Arlene in a fit of jealousy.

He turned to the girl's father in the courtroom to say: "You can rest assured, Mr. Draves, that this jury believes your daughter never consented to this defilement."

John Underwood, chief deputy prosecutor, who has shouldered the major part of the state's burden in presenting the evidence against Kirkland will follow Oldham. Then Robert C. Estill, prosecutor of Lake county, will end for the state.

School Operetta Thursday Evening

Hundred In Cast Of Ben Franklin Junior High School Production

A cast of 100 students will take part in "Penny Buns and Roses," the operetta to be given by the Benjamin Franklin junior high school Thursday evening of this week, and judging from the splendid rehearsals, the show is bound to be one of the greatest successes in the history of Franklin junior high theatrical performances.

There will be songs, dances, six different chorus—and each number is new, snappy and tuneful. The dialogue is in fine shape and a great amount of new discovered talent will be shown.

The performance will commence at 8 o'clock Thursday evening. Miss Ruth Lewis, director of dramatics, announces that there will be a matinee Wednesday afternoon at 2:30.

Principal parts will be taken by Paul Walters, Joe Bonfield, Mary Wasilison, Billy Greer and Adam Krezo.

GIRLS CAMP TO OPEN IN JUNE

Y. W. C. A. Camp For Girls At East Brook Will Commence Activities

As the sun's smile broadens into a grin and as the end of the school term looms into view, the thoughts of scores of New Castle girls commence floating around a certain spot four miles north east of the city.

It is Camp East Brook they are thinking about, the beautiful summer camping place for girls, owned and operated by the Y. W. C. A. of New Castle.

Complete plans for the camping season of this summer have not as yet been formulated, but the tentative program points to one of the most wonderful seasons ever.

June 29 to July 6—Queen Esther M. E. conference.

July 8 to July 20—Fifth and Sixth grade school girls.

July 20 to August 1—Junior high school girls.

August 1 to August 2—Business girls' week-end.

The four-fold purpose of the Association, the mental, spiritual, physical and social development of every camper will be carried out in the program, and the program will be under the direction of Miss Grace Lowers, Girl Reserve secretary and Miss Caroline Streeter, Health Education director of the New Castle "Y", with the assistance of a staff of carefully chosen counsellors.

The swimming pool which was built last year will be in use, the tennis courts will be in fine shape and it is believed that never before will Camp East Brook reach the height of success as this season.

Accident Victims Are All Improved

Recovery Of All The Injured In Seamans-Anthony Accident Is Expected

Mr. and Mrs. David Seamans and Clarence Fleming of 312 Edgewood avenue, all of whom were very seriously injured Saturday night, when the car of George Anthony of 1021 Huey street, crashed into their car on East Washington street, near Ray street, were reported today by the New Castle hospital as much improved and on the road to recovery. Frank Bogdon, who was in the Anthony car and sustained some injuries, was able to leave the hospital for his home last evening.

There is no compassion in the jungle. You see, there is no economic system to make little fellows need it.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

John Griffith, Accident Victim, Was Known Here

Miss Lena Mae Edson, Of Cherry Street, Was Visiting Home Of Victim

John P. Griffith of Farrell, who was the victim of an automobile-street car crash in Farrell Saturday night, and whose funeral will take place tomorrow, was well known by a number of Mahoningtown residents, and the night of the accident Miss Lena Mae Edson of Cherry street, this ward, was visiting his wife, the former Miss Dorothy Wallover.

Miss Edson and Mrs. Griffith were at the latter's home on Haywood street waiting for Mr. Griffith to return home from an errand when the message came that he was lying in a critical condition from injuries received when his sedan crashed head-on into a street car on South Irving avenue.

Both Miss Edson and Mrs. Griffith rushed to the hospital but Mr. Griffith passed away before they arrived.

Sanitary Officer Makes Inspection Of Local Concerns

L. S. Hoon, sanitary officer of the New Castle police force, inspected the stores of Mahoningtown Monday afternoon and found everything in ship shape order.

Officer Hoon makes inspections of the soda fountains and meat markets of this part of New Castle several times a month, to see if the supplies are being kept in clean, wholesome condition and to see that the meats are not tainted.

There is no contagion in Mahoningtown and the stores keep their goods in such good condition always that there is hardly need for inspection, according to Officer Hoon.

Shaker Colony To Move From 138-Year Abode; Mere Handful Remain

No Marriages Permitted, Community Dwindles Fom 100 Persons To 18, Of Whom 16 Are Women

Elder Henry Green, nominal head of Shaker society.

The Community House of Shaker Village, which will soon be abandoned because of dwindling membership.

By FRANCIS A. GOODALL
Central Press Correspondent.

SHAKER VILLAGE, Alfred, York County Maine, May 26—The long-gathering twilight is descending upon Alfred's old Shaker colony. Preparations have been progress for the departure of the last inhabitants of this picturesque society—established 138 years ago.

Of the prosperous group of 100 souls half a century ago, only 18 remain. Sixteen of these are women. Elder Henry Green, nominal head of the society, now 87, is one of the two living male members, who came to the settlement 73 years ago.

Since becoming an elder Green visited White mountain summer resorts annually, journeying by horse-drawn vehicle and accompanied by female members of the society best adapted to the selling of Shaker handicraft, until five years ago, when age and increasing motor traffic compelled him to confine his activities to Shaker Village. Since then, the Shaker sisters have carried on, with the aid of the other male member of the society, Stephen Gowen, in charge of farming activities.

Colony Founded in 1785.

Shakerism was brought here in 1785 when James Whittaker came with a group of elders from Mount Lebanon, N. Y. Today there grows a group of giant willow trees bordering the "old road" at Shaker Village and, tradition has it, they took root from a willow withe used by Elder Whittaker on his memorable trip from New York to Maine. He is said to have thrust the willow withe into the soil. It became a lusty tree and successive offshoots formed the present great clump of willow trees.

Formal organization of the society here dates back to 1783. First a meeting house was built, then a community house, cottages and barns. In the first half century of its history the society came into possession of 1,200 acres of fine fields and pastures as well as thrifty orchards. They farmed industriously and they raised cows, sheep and poultry. Their produce as well as their handicraft was in demand. The period from 1860 to 1890 was the most prosperous in the history of this Maine colony.

When Eldress Harriett Coolbroth came to Shaker Village 56 years ago there were 60 members. One by one they died, and no new converts came to fill their places.

Marriage Barred.

Shakerism is a religion that bans marriage. Women always have outnumbered men in this organization. They are simply brothers and sisters. Not until recently have the women had an active share in the management of affairs. Finally they demanded they be given representation in the conduct of affairs, so Harriett Coolbroth became an eldress.

Since the World war and the beginning of the present period of business depression, the Shakers have found it necessary to dispose of some of their land holdings. Now it has become impossible for them to keep their big houses and barns in repair and till the land as they once did.

They are disposing of their land and their buildings, making ready for the final exodus in June. Soon they will leave this dearly beloved spot that has been home to them for so many years. They are going to the Shaker colony at Sabbathday Lake at New Gloucester, Me., there to carry on to the end.

The Shakers, although their village is included within the boundaries of the county seat, Alfred, have never taken part in the political affairs of the township. Yet they always have held the respect and esteem of their fellow townsmen.

Annual Snake Hunt Is On In Arizona

(International News Service)

PRESCOTT, Ariz., May 26.—The annual snake hunt is on in this mountain town and its surrounding hills and valleys.

From now until June 14, residents of Prescott and nearby communities will keep their eyes open for bull snakes, the bigger the better. Picnickers will not run when they see one. Instead, they will capture it and brink it back to Prescott alive.

The snake dance, conducted by the Smoki Tribe is a prayer for rain, a ceremonial in which the dancers carry the live snakes in their teeth and hands. Approximately 90 dancers participate and more than 150 bull snakes are used. The snakes are harmless. Some of them used in the dance are as long as 10 feet.

STOPOVER FOR KINGS

(International News Service)

PARIS, May 26—Paris is not only a favorite spot for exiled kings, after King Manuel of Portugal and Prince Carol of Roumania, has come Alphonso XIII of Spain), but a pleasant refuge for banished presidents. Among them number Senor de Alvear, of Argentine, M. Alessandri, of Chili and M. Washington Luis, victim of a stormy autumn in Brazil. Perhaps the most unfortunate is Mr. Julio Prestes who was elected to the Brazilian presidency but was never allowed to occupy the seat of honor.

Endurance Fliers Hope To Establish Record This Time

American Airmen At Jacksonville, Florida, Have Been In Air Over 26 Hours

(International News Service)

JACKSONVILLE BEACH, FLA., May 26.—Droning through the night without even a "chuckle" from their motor, Walter A. Lees and Frederick A. Brossy, Detroit fliers, passed their 26th hour in the air at 8:42 a. m. today in an attempt to lower the world's record for non-refueling endurance flight.

The fliers dropped a note just as they passed the 26th hour saying they felt virtually no fatigue and that prospects looked bright for establishment of a new record.

Lees and Brossy had made two previous attempts to shatter the world's record of 75 hours and 23 minutes, being forced down by bad weather on both occasions. Flying the same Bellanca plane, powered by a Packard Diesel motor, they established a new American record of 74 hours and 12 minutes before a severe squall sent them to the ground.

YALE MAN'S JOB RECORD

(International News Service)

NEW HAVEN, May 26—Thos. R. Fisher Jr., of Scarsdale, N. Y., a Yale senior seems to hold the record for profitable extra-curriculum activities, according to records of the Yale bureau of appointments. Fisher, who holds the Westchester Yale alumni scholarship, has been managing the Yale travel bureau editing the Freshman handbook, selling advertising and organizing after-school groups of boys for athletics. In addition Fisher has spent his summers managing three day camps for boys. He has passed his day-camp idea on for the benefit of college students in other parts of the country.

The Parent Problem

Young Musician Gains Painless Practice With His School Orchestra

Dr. Myers Praises Progress Of Music Education Which Also Teaches Team Work And Good Citizenship

Head Division Parental Education, Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

All over this country there has been tremendous progress in music education in the public schools. The other evening I attended a concert given by the school band and school orchestra of the high school which my daughter attends. I was proud of what I heard and saw. Soon, at this same auditorium, about a score of high school bands and orchestras will have a contest.

What are some of these developments? In the first place, the hundreds of adolescent students who are trained have a strong motive for learning instrumental music, and parents are slowly realizing that not all music training is limited to piano playing. Boys, as well as girls, are appealed to. They do most of their practice at school, some during school hours, others after school. Knowing they are going to play for the enjoyment of others, and stimulated by team work, the usual practice pangs are missing. Back of the effort is a driving purpose. Furthermore, as one parent remarked the other evening at the concert, "The school band, or orchestra, cultivates good citizenship by fostering team work. There are not many opportunities for individual display. Each performer finds himself a part of the group doing his bit."

These organizations afford a wide outlet for expression of energy to large numbers of pupils who learn to engage in a valuable activity which they know provides enjoyment for others.

This same high school, like many others, is also developing highly talented choruses which, as well as the school band and orchestra, perform at public school functions, at P. T. A. meetings; even at evening church meetings.

Whereas, in your memory, many a high school commencement had to hire an orchestra, as also did a teachers' institute or county or state convention, now one or more musical organizations of the junior or senior high school or elementary grades provides this entertainment, stimulating patriotic pride in the parents attending and a feeling of being worth while and rendering a useful service in the pupils who participate.

Think, too, of what it will mean to all these young folk in later life, whether they go to college or do not. Out of them Sunday schools and civic organizations are developing their own orchestras and choirs. All the while the masses are being educated to appreciate good music while more opportunities for home pleasures are being cultivated.

Surely we parents ought to be glad of such developments and get back of them, heart and soul.

I shall be glad to answer, in this column, questions addressed to me in care of this paper, provided these questions seem to be of general interest.

If you have a question you would like to have answered personally write me, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Two pamphlets by Dr. Myers may be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Garry C. Myers, in care of this paper or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Punishments and Rewards" and "Fear".

Death Of Yobeli Found Accidental

Killed In Crescent Portland Cement Company Mine When Shovel Cable Broke

Jim Yobeli, 35, of Chewton, was killed yesterday when he was struck by a shovel, operated by compressed air, in a mine of the Crescent Portland Cement Company at Wampum, according to an investigation made by Coroner J. P. Caldwell. A verdict of accidental death was given.

The shovel, the same type as is usually operated by steam, when outside excavations are made, was being used in excavating limestone. Frank Miles was operating the shovel and Jim Yobeli, was in the pit or place from which the shale was being removed.

The shovel had been loaded and was being swung around to a car to be emptied, when the wire cable, or hoist rope, suddenly snapped. As the shovel swung back Yobeli dodged, but a corner of it struck him on the breast, breaking the brest bone and injuring him internally. He ran about thirty feet after being struck, and then fell unconscious, dying in a few minutes.

E. E. Wolf, foreman, stated that the cable was in good shape, there being no broken wires on it, so far as discovered previous to the accident. Frank Miles, stated that he had oiled the machinery about two hours before, and the cable appeared to be in good shape. No broken wire strands being seen.

Yobeli, who was a world war veteran, had been in the employ of the company for several years. According to the records of the company he has a wife and three children in Italy. Arrangements for funeral will be announced later.

"I don't mind your knowing it... I am 37" SAYS MARJORIE RAMBEAU

Famous Screen Star declares years need not rob you of Youth . . .

"I REALLY AM 37 years old," says Marjorie Rambeau, M. G. M. star. "And I don't mind admitting it because nowadays it isn't birthdays that count.

"The woman who knows how to keep the lovely sparkling freshness of youth can be charming at almost any age. Stage and screen stars, of course, must keep their youthful charm. It's youth that wins hearts and youth that holds them.

"Above everything else stage and screen stars guard complexion beauty. They know that a skin softly smooth and aglow always has irresistible appeal.

"While on the stage I discovered that regular care with Lux Toilet Soap would do wonders for my skin and used it for years. And now that I have the close-ups of the screen to face I certainly depend on it!"

How 98% of Hollywood actresses guard complexion beauty

Surely your skin should have this gentle care! You will want to keep it youthfully smooth and fresh just as the famous stars do.

MARJORIE RAMBEAU. This lovely favorite of the stage, who scored in such well-remembered plays as Daddy's Gone A-Hunting, is now a popular screen star, appearing currently in The Secret Six. As this recent photograph shows, she is so radiantly youthful it is hard, indeed, to believe her 37!

Year's Library Events Are Outlined In Report

Many Improvements at Public Library In Year 1930-1931, Report Shows

In statement to the library board of trustees, Miss Alice Sterling, librarian of the New Castle free public library, gives a brief resume of the special activities carried on by the library staff members and board members during the year of 1930.

Miss Sterling states:

The gain in circulation over 1929 is 16 per cent, the adult being 28 per cent and the juvenile 3.2 per cent. The distribution of gain is as follows: Main library 13 per cent, Mahoningtown 25 per cent, East Side 40 per cent, Jameson 60 per cent while South Side lost 5 per cent.

Special exhibits of religious books, books for business and professional women, were made at the library. An exhibit in observation of National Book Week was made in a window of the Pennsylvania and Ohio Electric Company, through the courtesy of the company.

An outstanding event of the year was the opening of a branch library at the New Castle Hospital in July. The new hospital branch has been met with splendid co-operation from the Superintendent and nurses.

Another interesting event was the renovating and decorating of a basement room in the library for use as a small auditorium and story hour room, which was opened for use during National Book Week in November. The story hour has attracted 2,614 children. Four kindergarden classes visited the library in the spring. Two juvenile reading clubs have interested a large group of children: one a travel club called the Magic Carpet and the other The Blue Star Club whose members dramatize fairy tales.

The annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Library Association at Wernersville was attended by Mr. Clarence A. Patterson and by the librarian. The spring meeting of the Four County Library Club at Aliquippa was attended by Mrs. Royce, Miss Conner and the librarian. The fall meeting of the same club at Mercer was attended by Mrs. Royce, Miss Barber, Miss Joyce and Miss Morrison.

A training class consisting of the Misses Katherine Mayberry, Grace Wallace, Mary Elizabeth Shannon and Mrs. Edith Allen was held in the summer. Mrs. Allen was elected to the staff in September, the others returning to teaching and to college.

The splendid service and loyalty of the staff is most commendable. The support of the Board of Trustees is gratefully acknowledged.

Included in the annual report of the public library for the past year the report of the treasurer by Clarence A. Patterson: number of books loaned for home use: the branch circulation: the contents of the library by classes: number of borrowers: names of the board of trustees and staff: and list of the book donors.

Constable Cool While On Stand At Kittanning

Attorney Charles Margiotti Subjects Alleged Slayer To Severe Examination

DEFENDANT FAILS TO CHANGE STORY

Indications Point To Jury Getting Murder Case Sometime Wednesday

(International News Service)

KITTANNING, Pa., May 26.—With the re-trial of William D. Raper, former Leechburg constable, for the murder of Joseph Conto, Leechburg Pop manufacturer, well into its second week, indications as Armstrong county court opened today were that the defense would rest its case late today or tonight, with commonwealth rebuttal, closing arguments of opposing counsel and the charge of Judge J. Frank Graff before the jury late tomorrow.

Only a few witnesses remain to be called for the defense. Through these witnesses, it was believed that E. O. Golden, defense attorney, would seek to introduce testimony corroborative of the general denial entered by Raper that he had any knowledge of or participated in any way in the gruesome killing of Conto.

The semi-wealthy pop manufacturer's body, decapitated by a shotgun charge fired at close range, was found in a secluded clump of woodland in Shady Plain in September, 1930, a few days after he had mysteriously disappeared.

Defendant On Stand

Raper took the witness stand for seven hours in his own defense yesterday and testified in detail as to his movements on the day Conto disappeared. For five and one half hours he underwent a withering cross-examination by Charles J. Margiotti, special prosecutor who gained a death verdict in the Irene Schroeder-Glenn Dague murder trials. Although weakening on several points, Raper remained adamant in his insistence that his original story of his brief contact with Conto on the day of the latter's disappearance was, in the main, correct.

Under direct examination, Raper testified substantially as he had in his first trial. His story was that on the day of Conto's disappearance he had met a "stranger" near the Grant street schoolhouse and, at the stranger's request, picked up Conto in Leechburg and drove the pop manufacturer to the schoolhouse where, unable to locate the stranger, he drove Conto back into town and let him out of the machine.

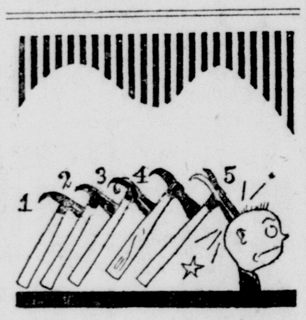

Margiotti questioned Raper closely in regard to the constable's story that, acting on a complaint by George Gus, he had spent part of the morning searching for a stray collie dog which was reported snapping at automobile tires.

MAN TRYING TO START CARS IS FINED BY MAYOR

About 7:25 o'clock last night, State Police Officer Henecheck and John Crowl on stepping out of The Colonial Hotel, noticed a man get into the Crowl car parked nearby on East Washington street and try to start it. He was unsuccessful and getting out went toward Croton avenue. Stat Police Officer Henecheck followed and discovered the man attempting to start a car there, which he had entered. He was arrested and gave the name of C. L. Matthews. This morning, he was fined $10 by Mayor William H. Gillespie on a charge of suspicion.

Fifty-Four Honduran Rebels Slain In Battle With Federal Troops

NINE GOVERNMENT TROOPERS KILLED

(International News Service)

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, May 26.—Fifty-four Honduran rebels were killed and many wounded in the battle with federal troops at Las Palmas Saturday which is believed to have broken the back of the Honduran revolution, it was officially announced here today.

Nine federal soldiers were killed and twelve wounded in the clash. The rebels lost eighty horses and mules, more than fifty rifles, two machine guns, a large number of machetes and a quantity of amunition.

Survivors of the rebel band, which originally numbered 500, were reported retreating southward in disorder.

P. S. C. INSPECTOR TO VIEW CROSSING

An inspector of the state's public service commission must view the Pennsylvania railroad's crossing on North Croton avenue before further action is taken relative to the installation of an automatic flasher as a protection substitute for watchmen.

Superintendent H. T. Frushour, who recently appeared before city council, said the inspector's report on the advisability of the move will go to the commission and then in turn to the company.

Ex-County Clerk Placed In Jail

Failure To Pay County Commissioners $500 Cash Bond, Results In Arrest

(International News Service)

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., May 26. Charged with having failed to pay Franklin county commissioners a $500 cash bond deposited in a quarter sessions court case, Edward S. Strickler, who resigned as county clerk several weeks ago, today was held in jail here in default of bail.

Charges against Strickler were filed by L. H. Leiter, chairman of the board of commissioners.

CAR REPORTED AS STOLEN IS FOUND

Early this morning, the local police authorities were advised by the Youngstown police department and a Mr. Grimm of this city, that the latter's car had been stolen from the streets of this city. Grimm stated that a friend wno stops at the Henry Hotel might have the machine. Officers N. J. Young and Moore investigated and found the man in question was in bed at the hotel. Later Officer McKee found the missing car parked on South Mercer street near the Leslie Hotel and had it placed in a local garage.

Rise of Juan Terry Trippe from Jobless Air Enthusiast to Head of Pan-American Airways Due to Capitalization of an Idea

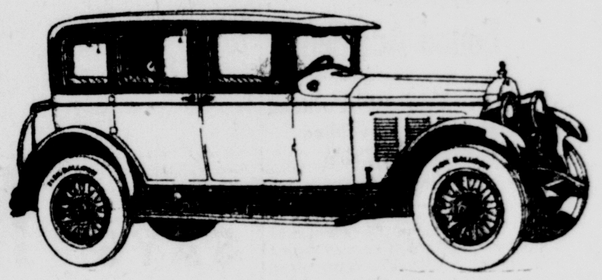

WHERE PAN-AMERICAN AIRWAYS OPERATES

JUAN T. TRIPPE

Jobless in 1927, Juan Terry Trippe had an idea that fame and fortune awaited the man who could organize and put into effect a system of air transportation over the inaccessible reaches of the Caribbean and down the mountainous coasts of South America. Trippe set to work to turn his idea into reality and despite many reverses finally succeeded in combining three rival groups of air lines into one giant system. Today Trippe's company controls more than 100 multi-motored planes and eighty-nine airports. It serves thirty-one countries over 22,000 miles of airways and in 1930 the system's planes flew 3,000,000 miles with an operating record of 99.7 per cent.

Memorial Day Plan For Ellwood

Arrangements Are Completed For Observance Of May 30

MEADVILLE MAN WILL BE SPEAKER

ELLWOOD CITY, May 26.—A special meeting was held last night in the American Legion rooms by the Memorial Day committee to complete final plans for the Memorial Day celebration in Ellwood City.

The parade will begin at 9:30 in the morning in which all of the patriotic orders of the community will participate. The borough council by a resolution passed at the last meeting will also march in the parade as will the public and boy and girl scouts.

The members of the G. A. R. auxiliaries will hold their usual services on the Fifth street bridge by firing a volley in honor of the deceased sailors.

Following this all will proceed to the Legion park on the corner of Spring avenue and Fourth street where an interesting program will be given. The public for the first time will have an opportunity to view the new uniforms of the Lincoln high school band who will inaugurate the program by playing "The Star Spangled Banner."

The Civil war veteran will then introduce the speaker of the day—Major Charles F. Clyde of Meadville. Then there will be a special selection by the American Legion Bugle and Drum corps which will be followed by ritual services by the Sons of Veterans. A volley will be fired by the American Legion firing squad and will be followed by taps by the legion bugler.

The veterans and the Gold Star Mothers will be entertained with a dinner and program at the Trinity Lutheran church following the program at the Legion park.

The various organizations of the city will gather at the Legion building Friday evening for the purpose of distributing flags about the city and decorating the graves with flowers and flags.

Farewell Party For High Faculty

ELLWOOD CITY, May 26.—The Lincoln high school faculty enjoyed a final farewell party before the closing of school Friday when all the teachers will go to their homes or go on to school. The party was held at the Fruitful Manor, Zelienople, with about 40 teachers being present.

A splendid evening of music, dancing and cards were thoroughly enjoyed by all. There were nine tables of bridge at play with the favors going to Miss Iva Jackson and Mrs. Richard Hawke for the ladies and Raymond Ralston Mr. Wolfe for the men.

A lovely dinner preceded the events of the evening. Miss Marie Christley and Miss Abigail Cresswell were in charge of the successful arrangements and received the thanks of all.

RESIGNS CHOIR PLACE

ELLWOOD CITY, May 26.—Mrs. Esther Griffiths of Fourth street, who has been leading the choir of the First Baptist church for the past few months, resigned her position because of ill health. She is compelled to take a complete rest.

Prepare To Open City Playgrounds

Announcement Of Plans Is Made By Playground Commission

ELLWOOD CITY, May 26.—The city is completing plans for the annual playgrounds session this summer which will begin on Monday, June 6. The playground commission reports that equipment for the season is in good condition and announces the following personnel for the various playgrounds:

This is a new innovation of having a man and lady at each playground this summer. The hours will be from 9 a. m. to 12 noon and from 1:30 to 4:30 p. m. An evening session will be supplemented for a morning session on Mondays so that children may aid their mothers with the washing. This session will be from 6 to 9 p. m.

As announced previously, Mrs. Helen Wilson will be general supervisor of the playgrounds with the work going on under her direction.

Bible Class Meets At Seidel Home

ELLWOOD CITY, May 26.—The C. A. Martin Bible class gathered at the home of Mrs. W. W. Seidel on Fifth street for their regular meeting last night.

A short business meeting was held with routine matters coming up for consideration which was then followed by the usual study hour with another chapter of their book being studied and discussed.

The meeting will take place on the last Monday of June at a place to be later determined.

TROOP TO MEET

ELLWOOD CITY, May 26.—The newly organized North Sewickley Boy Scout troop met in the North Sewickley Presbyterian church last night for the purpose of getting acquainted with the new leaders and studying scout work. All reveal a great interest in the proceedings. The troop belongs to the Ellwood district.

TO FLY AT FAIRMONT

ELLWOOD CITY, May 26.—Burton Mahaffey of this city, who has been training in aviation under Kenneth Wright at the local airport, has accepted a position to fly for Fairmont, W. Va., airport. He is leaving for that place Friday.

Mr. Mahaffey was a high school student and has been affiliated with the Ellwood News company for the past six years. He has been studying aviation diligently now for two years, both in theory and practice and will be fairly acquainted with his new work.

Y. M. M. CLUB

ELLWOOD CITY, May 26.— Mrs. James Carothers will be hostess to the members of the Y. M. M. club this evening at her home in North Sewickley at their regular meeting.

Gun Talks for Her

A shotgun is all primed to talk for Mrs. Augusta Hank when it comes to negotiations with a power company which wants to string some high-tension wires across her property northeast of Joliet, Illinois. Mrs. Hank, shown above with her trusty weapon, is standing pat in her determination not to permit the public utility to cross her land.

Final Service On Wednesday

ELLWOOD CITY, May 26.— A splendid program will feature the final services of the Third Biennial meeting of the Women's Missionary organizations on Wednesday, in the Bellefield Presbyterian church.

Miss Emma Jessie Ogg will be the presiding officer on this occasiion. Mrs. Ralph W. Harbison of the Board of National Missions will be in charge of the service of worship and will speak on "The Consummation of the Message," which will begin at 9:30 a. m. Reports of various commissions will be given at this time also.

A communion service will begin at 11:30 in charge of Rev. Hugh T. Kerr D. D. Moderator of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A., Dr. Cheng Ching Yi, Moderator of the United Church of Christ in China, and Rev. Robert MacGowan D. D., pastor of the Bellefield Presbyterian church.

There will be an exhibition in the basement of the Syria Mosque in Pittsburgh which is open to the public, and is known as "The Presbyterian World in Pittsburgh."

This program concludes a most active week in Pittsburgh where throngs of people from the surrounding countryside came to view these meetings which are only held every two years. This is the first time that it was held in Pittsburgh.

TUESDAY BRIDGE

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 26.—Mrs. Ivan Romack will entertain the members of the Tuesday Evening Bridge club at her home on Pershing street at their regular meeting.

R. Q. CLUB

ELLWOOD CITY, May 26.— Mrs. Reed Hall will preside over the regular meeting of the R. Q. club at her home on Park avenue Thursday evening.

YES AND NO CLUB

ELLWOOD CITY, May 26.— Mrs. Clara Kettler will entertain the members of the Yes and No club at her home in Wurtemburg Thursday evening when they gather there for their regular session.

Chest Fund Is Nearing Goal

Over $2,000 Added To Total Of Campaign On Monday

ELLWOOD CITY, May 26—Community Chest officials announced this morning that they are in high hopes that the campaign will end today or at least by Wednesday evening. The sum raised Monday was $2,153.74 bringing the present total up to $25,300.50 just $2,199.50 lacking for the drive to go over the top with the whole sum of $27,500 so that local welfare institutions may successfully continue their fine work.

There are still some small sums from all of the divisions to come in and some larger sums from industrial plants.

Salaried people have been responding to the need wonderfully—taking the burden of filling the chest mostly on their shoulders. There is no doubt that the campaign will go over the top although it has gone over schedule which is caused by all reports from solicitors failing to come in on the designated time.

Ocette Bridge Club Members Are Guests

ELLWOOD CITY, May 26.—With delightful hospitality Mrs. Howard Jones opened her home for the pleasure of the members of the Ocette Bridge club last night on Orchard avenue. The home was beautifully decorated in lovely spring flowers which exceedingly brightened the occasion.

The members gathered around the two tables of bridge at play for the early hours of the evening with the high score favor going to Mrs. J. Buquo at the conclusion of the games.

At a later hour in the evening a delectable menu was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Charles Riley, much to the satisfaction of all present.

Mrs. Riley invited the club to meet at her home in Ewing Park in two weeks for their next regular meeting.

SWIMMING PARTY

ELLWOOD CITY, May 26.—A fair representation of the Young People's District council enjoyed a splendid swimming party in the Shelby indoor pool last night. Water sports and diving kept everybody amused.

At an appointed hour some delicious refreshments were served by a committee which proved to be very pleasing after a hearty swim.

M. L. BRIDGE

ELLWOOD CITY, May 26.— The members of the M. L. Bridge club will gather at the home of Mrs. George Wilson on Wednesday evening for their regular meeting.

BABY CRIES ARE MUSIC

(International News Service)

BERLIN, May 26—Baby screams are first class music! They are vocal achievements in regard to tone and breath performance unparalled even by Caruso. Parents who have always known this about their own babies are confirmed in their views by the "Tonkuenstlerzeitung" the organ of German musicians. The paper says, however, that the "inherited physiological singing talents" are ruined in most children by the bad and unnatural body posture enforced on school benches.

A SAD, SAD STORY

Firpo Wins Award Over Jack McVey

Judges Split And Referee Casts Deciding Vote For Firpo

FRANKIE STELMACK DROPS LEFTY ARNOLD

Patrons of Biff and Bang had their appetite for fight fully appeased last night at the Castle Bowl where Henry Firpo, 159½, elongated Louisville battler, was given the decision over Jack McVey, 160, colored New York city fighter, in a 10 round bout. There wasn't a dull second in the scrap and the other four battles contained action galore.

Firpo got the decision by virtue of the referee's ballot after the two judges had disagreed. Dunn, of New Castle, voted for Firpo and former middleweight champion, Chip, called the fight a draw which necessitated a vote by the referee, Jack Henderson. The latter voted for Firpo and his ballot gave the fight to the 'Louisvillean'.

The writer's score card showed he had figured the battle a draw. The sheet showed Firpo having taken the first chapter and McVey having won the second with the other eight rounds even. However, the fans got plenty of action for their money and the patrons of Biff and Bang left the bowl singing the praises of all the fighters who flung gloves.

McVey employed a left cross to the head and stomach to score while Firpo's long left flicked incessantly to the colored boy's face. While Firpo did not use his right often he did let it go several times and it generally nailed McVey too high on the jaw to drop him. Each was staggered at different periods. Firpo's left eye was cut in the latter part of the fight.

Frankie Stelmack Wins.

Lefty Arnold, 139½, of New Castle, was stopped by Frankie Stelmack, 139½, of Cleveland, in the fifth round of a hot skirmish. Lefty had an edge for the first few rounds as Frankie could not solve his southpaw attack. In, the fifth round, however, he landed a right to the stomach that sent Lefty to the floor. He was helped to his corner after the referee tolled off 10 seconds.

Homer Gray Wins.

Homer Gray, 160, New Castle, defeated Jack White, 157½, Sharon, in a fast four round bout. After the first two rounds Homer cut loose and the Sharon middleweight was on the receiving end. However, while beaten he was not disgraced and both pleased the crowd by giving fans plenty of action. As a result Gray will probably meet Morrie Suber in his next bout.

Merle Gibson, 161, New Castle, scored a technical knockout over Joe Testa, 158½, this city, in the third of a four round bout. Gibson got to Testa early in the battle and Joe was taking punishment when the referee stopped the contest, rather than see a likely looking boy take unnecessary punishment. Testa was down for a count of four before the referee ended the bout.

Real Hot Fight.

Vito Mangine, 134, New Castle, and Willie Stribling, 131, also of New Castle, staged a whirlwind four round bout. They slugged from bell to bell and at the end of the fight Mangine was awarded the decision. The fans were on their toes cheering both contestants throughout the contest but Joe Ritchie's protege deserved the award which he received.

The referee was Jack Henderson and the judges, Dunn and Chip of New Castle. The watch was held by McDougall and Bugs Walters was the announcer. The matches were made by Ed. Fritz and the crowd was the largest for several fights.

South Hills Tops Lawrence

Lead by the pitching of Timpolio who limited his opponents to three hits, the South Hill A. A. team added another victory to its list by defeating the Lawrence Nine on Monday night on the South Hills grounds. The score was 9-2.

DiMuccio with a pair of doubles was the feature hitter for the winners. The South Hills team would like to book a double bill for Memorial Day. Call 5409-R3.

Freeman Defeats 'Buck" McTiernan

Tommy Freeman, Former Welterweight Champion Wins Nod Over McTierman

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 26—A seventh round knockdown failed to weigh greatly in the balance against Tommy Freeman, former welterweight champion of the world, the Clevelander owing a close decision today over Buck McTiernan, district swinger, referee Red Robinson decided in Freeman's favor after the judges disagreed.

Meyers Bowl sizzled with the torrid punching, for the most part, Freeman displaying a shade more power and effectiveness to carry off the victory. He was the aggressor, despite his being knocked down in the seventh and finished up the last three rounds in jaunty form. Freeman concentrated on a body attack and meted out smart punishment to the local welter.

Enthusiastic fans, frantic over McTiernan's fine showing which they thought culminated with the knockdown in the seventh, hooted the decision.

McLarnin Changes Style Of Fighting

Jimmy McLarnin Hopes To Give Billy Petrolle Lesson Tomorrow Night

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

ORANGEBURG, N. Y., May 26.—Smiling Jimmy McLarnin, whose string of spectacular ring victories was snapped last November when Billy Petrolle handed the Vancouver Irishman the worst drubbing of his career, is going to change his style somewhat in his important return bout with the Fargo, N. D., Italian at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

Petrolle confounded the "Irish Knockout King" in their first meeting by coming in with head lowered elbows high and carrying the fight all the way. When McLarnin jumped away, Billy nailed him with long left hooks.

Changes Style

"I think I had better fight him differently this time," observed James this morning with his quantly precise enunciation as the finished his training with light exercises. "I will keep my head down more and stay in closer. Last time I made the mistake of jumping back and was hit by those long lefts. For three rounds of the fight, I was quite dazed."

A change in Jimmy's style was evident as he went through his last session with the big gloves for the benefit of sports writers at Gus Wilson's sylvan retreat here. He did more of the weaving and sidestepping that marked his earlier ring days when he was noted more for his masterful boxing ability rather than his devastating punch.

Macks Look Good To Repeat In American League Pennant Fight

CLEVELAND TEAM DROPS WHITE SOX

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 26.—Having severely trounced their so-called chief rivals, the New York Yankees, not only once, 4 to 2, but twice, 16 to 4, there seemed nothing in the world today for the A's to do but ride the crest of their dazzling drive and coast on through the summer to another American League pennant. The double triumph stretched the Mackmen's winning streak to 17 games.

Lefty Grove, who hurled himself to a magnificent victory, his fifth straight, in the opening act of the debacle, did things most pitchers are content to ponder on in their dreams. With the runs that would have tied up the game on base, he fanned the great Babe Ruth and his only slightly less celebrated pal, Lou Gehrig.

The Cubs decided to hit the ball again and spanked it often and hard behind Les Sweetland, who went the route, defeating the Pirates 9 to 6.

Purses Of Gorilla Jones And Bucky Lawless Held Up By Illinois Commission

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 26.—Purses of Bucky Lawless and Gorilla Jones, Akron, Ohio, Negro middleweight, were held up following their fight here last night by Gen. John V. Clinnin, chairman of the State Athletic Commission, pending an investigation.

Lawless was given the decision after 10 rounds of "painless punching" which failed to interest 5,250 spectators in the stadium.

Jones complained to referee Purdy that he had injured his right hand. A doctor's examination failed to show anything wrong with it so Clinnin stopped the money.

Ramey, Grand Rapids lightweight won over Johnny Jadick, Philadelphia in the best fight on the card, winning the last three rounds of eight by a decisive margin.

Westminster Closes Another Successful Sports Season

Titan Teams Win 25 Contests, Lose But 12 During Year

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., May 26.—With 25 victories and 12 defeats as a record, Westminster College closes another very successful sports year and looks forward with hopes for next year.

Titan teams that stood out this year were the basketball quint which lost only one game out of 16 played, and the track team, which was undefeated in dual meets during the season.

Tennis and cross country were both below the average for Westminster this year. Football, with four victories to five defeats, was a bit better than it has been but still somewhat disappointing.

The varsity basketball team again clinched the Tri-State Conference and district class B college championships and paced all other Titan teams for the year. The fete of the court five gave Westminster a record of three conference championships in five seasons.

The record of the teams: football, won four, lost five; basketball, won 15, lost one; track, won three, lost none; tennis, won two, lost four; cross country, won one, lost two.

Congratulates Conqueror

YOU CAN OWN A CAR WITH the SYNCRO-MESH TRANSMISSION

· For only $845 ·

You can now own a new Oldsmobile, equipped with the famous Syncro-Mesh non-clashing transmission, for only $845, f. o. b. Lansing.

This transmission, a patented feature available heretofore only in higher priced cars, offers advantages which are as unusual as they are desirable. It enables you to shift quickly and silently through all gears . . . from low into second, from second to high, and from high back to second—without reducing car speed. It gives greater flexibility and more positive control in traffic. It also strengthens the factor of safety when driving on steep grades. For the car is in gear and under control at all times—ready for an instant shift from high into second, to give you the extra protection of braking power from the engine.

In addition, Oldsmobile has added to this transmission, a new Quiet Second Gear—assuring smooth, swift acceleration which rivals high gear performance in quietness.

Until you are familiar, from personal experience, with these important advantages of the Syncro-Mesh transmission, you can't appreciate how much this fine-car feature really adds to driving enjoyment.

A drive, however, will quickly reveal these advantages. And it will reveal other reasons, equally important, why the new Oldsmobile is not only a great car to drive but also a great car to own.

CONSIDER THE DELIVERED PRICE AS WELL AS THE LIST PRICE WHEN COMPARING VALUES. DELIVERED PRICES INCLUDE TWO DOOR SEDAN $845 f. o. b. Lansing. ONLY REASONABLE CHARGES FOR DELIVERY AND G.M.A.C. FINANCING . . . WHICH WE WILL BE GLAD TO DETAIL FOR YOU.

"Connie Mack's pitchers are sure to crack. Keep going the way you have and Washington will finish on top." That's the pennant sales talk Manager Walter Johnson is handing his athletes as they eye with amazement the steadily mounting triumphs of the champions.

However, we're not as sure as Walt says he is that the mighty Mackmen will collapse. They've had their slump. It was the beginning of the season. Starting poorly the A's have returned to the mountain tops with as grand a string of victories as baseball has seen in many moons. Their just completed western trip was really a tour of unbeatable titans, a parade of power worthy the greatest of champions.

"As soon as Al Simmons slumps the Athletics won't be able to match us man for man," Walter continues.

What's this, Walter? In the first place, who's been breezing it around that Al will go into a slide? And if he does, there used to be a couple of fellows called Cochrane and Foxx on the Philadelphia premises. Washington has good first base material, but we'll take Foxx and as far as catchers go—that's where you'll find Cochrane and nobody else.

Grove and Earnshaw have been overworked in recent weeks and Rube Walberg has also done a capacity job. However, canny Connie undoubtedly will call on his aces to slacken their pace for awhile. They have beaten all opposition and have given their club a good though not a comfortable lead.

Universal Team Plans To Protest

Universals of the Lawrence County league plan to protest against the Scarazzo team. These two teams played on Monday night to a 7-7 tie.

The Universals claim that a Scarazzo player interferred with one of their players while in the act of fielding the ball. The umpire not knowing the ruling did not call the Scarazzo player out. The above was received in a letter to the News sports desk sent by Dean M. Staley manager of the Universal team.

You're the JUDGE

The Decision

The child was evidently wanting in care. She therefore was negligent along with the motorman. And the rule is that contributory negligence bars recovery.

A Brooklyn man says he has discovered a way to get rid of collectors. He pays them the first time they come to the house.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Hint Move To Halt Market Raids By Bears

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 26.—Though stocks in all sections of the list started the session at lower price levels, moderate rallies in all but the Utilities and a few Specialties in the second hour restored the bulk of the early losses. United States Steel sank to a new low at 93½ at the start, but recovered to 95⅝, and similar recoveries were made in other favorites.

A new "questionnaire" from the stock exchange governors to the members, demanding information on stocks borrowed and loaned, and a list of undelivered stocks, was taken as a hint that the "powers that be" in the stock market would not tolerate further raiding of the big bears. The extent of the short interest may be inferred from the fact that 24 of the best known shares were loaning at premiums after the close of Monday's market, while virtually every other active stock was loaning "flat", which means that borrowers of the stock received no interest on the money put up as security.

An over-crowded short interest sooner or later paves the way for a recovery in prices, the recovery accelerating as business conditions improve. Weakness in the Utility stocks today helped to block the rally in the general list, but many leading industrials were slightly higher near the noon hour.

In the Utility group, North American sold down 2½ points at 62½, Standard Gas sold 2 points lower and new losses of a point or more were recorded for Public Service of N. J., American and Foreign Power, Columbia Gas and American Waterworks. Another wave of selling in the Automobile stocks wiped out the early gains and the Amusements were unsettled by the weakness in Paramount, which fell off to a new low at 21⅞, down 1½. Call money was unchanged at 1½ per cent.

Request Citizens Watch For Locusts

(International News Service)

CHARLEROI, Pa., May 26.—Washington county residents have been requested by state and federal departments of agriculture to be on the look-out for appearence of the 17-year locusts, scheduled to show up in southwestern Pennsylvania in the near future.

"City Eggecutive"

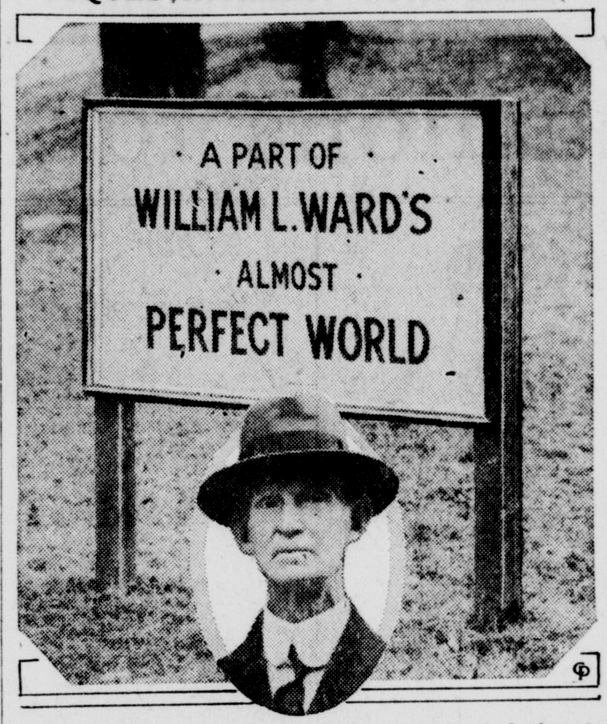

Practicing the principle that his constituents could eat eggs but not political cards, Mat Wagner (above) waged a successful campaign for the office of mayor of Winona, Minn., only to be ousted when he was convicted of violating the State corrupt practices act. The former "city eggecutive," in office for 25 days, has not yet given up the fight to regain his job which was won by distributing eggs for one cent a dozen when they retailed at 18 cents a dozen. Mat's supporters are demanding a special election.

Anger (above), of Evanston, Ill., Radcliffe College graduate, photographed at the Harvard University Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., where she is measuring the distances of stars by an ultra violet ray process which she discovered. She is now studying for her doctor's degree. Miss Anger is shown at a photographic telescope ready to make a negative of the distant stars.

PIQUES INTEREST WITH SIGNS

This sign along the highway in Westchester county, New York, piques the interest of passersby. Other similar signs before it have said: "Thousands have asked the price of this property but it is not for sale," and "For sale—$1,600,000." T. C. O'Brien, wealthy New Yorker, who owns the land erects the signs to persuade his wife to move from New York to Westchester, many believe. He purchased the tract a number of years ago intending to build a mansion, but Mrs. O'Brien is said to have refused to move.

Kids Keep Healthy Here

Did It for Dear Old Volstead

Because a toast in wine to the new President of France was proposed at a banquet staged for visiting American mayors at Havre City Hall, Mayor and Mrs. John C. Porter (above) of Los Angeles, walked out and left the party flat. Porter said that he and his wife intended to uphold the United States Constitution by not drinking while abroad.

Maid of Honor

Eleanor Strom (above), of Los Angeles, was selected as maid of honor for the International Pageant and Olympic Field Day held by Danes, Swedes and Norwegians of Southern California recently under the auspices of the Viking Athletic Club in Los Angeles. Miss Strom was chosen because she was believed to personify the modern Scandinavian type of feminine beauty.

Labor Editor Shot

Slayer Now Sane Will Face Trial

Man Who Was Put In Insane Asylum Five Years Ago For Killing Wife Is Sane

(International News Service)

POTTSVILLE, Pa. May, 26.—Edward T. Troskos, of Frackville, will be tried here at the June term of criminal court for a murder committed five years ago.

Troskos, who shot and killed his wife as she started for church in October, 1926, has been confined in the Fairview Hospital for the Insane, following examination by a lunacy commission which declared him insane.

Recently, physicians and sanity experts examined Troskos at the hospital and pronounced him sane again. He will be defended by Cyrus M. Palmer, former Congressman who was district attorney at the time of the shooting and may be prosecuted by Deputy District Attorney C. A. Freiler, who was his attorney at the time.

HOUSE PROBERS SUBMIT FINAL UTILITY REPORT

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 26.—Re affirming its original finding, submitted in a preliminary report, that the Public Service Commission has "Lost the confidence of the people," the House utilities investigating committee today had before the legislature its final report recommending immediate removal of all members of the commission.

The final report, signed by five of the seven members of the committee, was accompanied by an exhaustive resume of testimony before the committee, compiled by Harold Evans, Pinchot counsel for the probers. Reps. Turner, Delaware and Bowers, Fayette, did not sign the report and will probably submit a majority report tomorrow.

In its original report, the committee recommended abolition of the commission and substitution of a fair rate board. Since that was submitted, however, the Senate "picked" the fair rate measures and the House probers took a new tack by recommending immediate ouster of all commission members.

The committee, its report said, found utility companies in the state have been permitted to enjoy incomes far in excess of a fair rate upon capital invested; that the commission remained indifferent to "Enormous stock issues foisted on an innocent and unsuspecting public"; that the commission has been negligent in its duties, "Indifferent in its stewardship," and a menace to proper utility regulation.

Legislation to control utility holding companies was recommended as well as legislation to permit the commission to award comparative reparations in hearings which decide rates are unjust or unreasonable.

The probe body also urged greater appropriations to the commission and enlargement of its personnel; passage of legislation to prevent rate increases being effective until approved by the commission; state-aid in rural electrification extension; more detailed reports of utilities into the commission and greater control over utility securities and financing.

Throughout, the final report of the House investigating body reiterated the stand taken in its preliminary report, which sustained the administration position and theories on public utilities and recommend legislation which has had administration support through the session.

ROAD TO COST ONLY DAMAGES

Mercer - New Wilmington Road Bid Under $30,000 Per Mile Aid Offered

GREENVILLE, May 26.—The Mercer county commissioners are being congratulated on the contracts which they have made with the state for the construction of the Mercer-New Wilmington and the West Salem roads. This is especially so with the New Wilmington road, which is to be built without cost to the county except the payment of damages, which will be low. The commissioners visited farm owners along the route and in most every case secured a release from damages, and other cases secured an agreement to accept actual damages.

This is even better than the commissioners had anticipated, as it was expected their share possibly would reach $40,000. The agreement with the State Highway department was that the State and Federal governments would pay up to $30,000 a mile and the county everything over that amount. From the attitude of the contractors the commissoners felt that the bids would probably be around $35,000 or $36,000, but did not expect it to go below $30,000, and the announcement which was received Friday afternoon caused general rejoicing.

The total cost of the road is to be $199,000 or $29,700 for each of its 6.7 miles of length. There were 34 bidders for the route.

Fascist Ready To Try American For Mussolini Attack

Michele Schirru, American Citizen Held For Attempted Plot

(International News Service)

ROME, May 26.—Plans were completed by the Fascist authorities today for the trial of Michele Schirru, a naturalized American, on charges of plotting the assassination of Premier Mussolini.

Schirru is scheduled to go on trial Thursday. Extraordinary precautions will be taken to prevent disorders.

The indictment against Schirru describes him as a "dangerous Anarchist," alleging he was arrested in Pittsfield, Massachusetts in 1921 and in New York in 1926 on charges growing out of anarchistic activities.

Schirru, according to the authorities, confessed plotting against the life of Il Duce. He was quoted as saying he came to Italy last winter to commit the deed.

Baumer-Boyd Are Candidates For Senate Leader

Senator Baumer And Boyd Will Battle It Out For Senate Pro Tem Post

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 26.—Senator Herman E. Baumer, Cambria, will be the choice of the four Democratic members of the Senate for president pro tempore, it was certain today, to oppose Senator James S. Boyd, Montgomery, the likely Republican choice.

At an informal meeting of the Democratic quartet, Baumer's nomination was decided upon.

Republican senators will caucus tomorrow night and all indications point toward Boyd's nomination. If nominated, the post is his, there being 46 Republican members of the Upper House.
